Crystallize. - June 25, 2018, 5:05 am

All copies sold. Nighty night. ?

How many times are you able to do this?

You're basically saying I can get any item on Amazon for free..?

Seems a little too good to be true, no?

daddybitch - June 25, 2018, 5:14 am

Does this work on the UK Amazon?

Seems a little too good to be true, no?As I said a minimum investment is required, let's say you order an iPhone X which costs $999

You'll invest $30.You can do this as much as you can but I wouldn't suggest to abuse it so it doesn't get patched.

You can use the exploit gently ordering stuff every x days but not 300 items in 1 day lol.

It should work.

Potluck - June 25, 2018, 5:19 am

I'm very interested in this will you guarantee to at least make our money back or refund? Is their a limit on the max price a order could be? Let's say I wanted to do a MacBook Pro and a iPhone X you'll guarantee that it will work? Also how long does the exploit take?

The only thing I can guarantee is that the exploit works as of 25/6/2018.As I said you might wanna take this lightly and not ordering shit ton of items in the first day.You might wanna give a go to iPhone X then after a week you can give a go to MacBook.It takes less than an hour to setup.

Can you make a video PoC (feel free to blur out any details)? Or show the checkout page to have $30 in there as the final cost of the item.

I would only recommend making a video for people who are interested in the exploit, like planning to buy. just to prevent amazon employees or some salty kids from finding it out and reporting it.

CriticalSecurity - June 25, 2018, 6:00 am

So you saying "it requires 30 bucks and you are ready to go " .If I were in your shoes,I wouldn't expose my method for couple of thousands ,because I can get much more ...?

Yep.I am not interested to get myself physical items that's why im selling the exploit.

If that's really working without any money back or any risk to the account, then could u post some screenshots about ur purchases?

the term "exploit" mean its from the entire site without using any third party service correct me if I'm wrong.

waiting for more proofs.

Your account might be in risk.How do you think amazon reacts when they see you've been getting items for free lol.

And yes it's an exploit in amazon itself.The exploit is simple as hell.

CriticalSecurity - June 25, 2018, 6:07 am

Good luck,bro

But from my experience with Amazon, for every large order like above 500$. "Manual" approval is required from Amazon security-team .

Do you even know that you can sell the "physical items" via Ebay? Then you will do a lot more money.

If this really works, no one would sell it. ;)

Thank you amazon. ?

Sales re-opened.

Would you mind posting more proof? You're not actually charged until the item ships so it can be easily faked.

So let me get this straight.

You do NOT need to SE for this and it is basically a computer glitch/exploit that you have to do and it takes a few seconds to do right?

If not, how long does it take to perform this?

TheMedigator - June 26, 2018, 10:34 pm

Can you show us the dispatch email for that order you did recently? It'll be dispatched by now?

Sign the transaction or prove its your wallet.

Are you on drugs or something?

Amazon holds big $ orders for manual approval.No you cannot get an iPhone X as first order, maybe as second order yes.I dont know how their process works I dont work for amazon.This exploit has proven to be succesful with orders below $200
