Thread: [\[OPINIONS NEEDED\]Torrent site in construction](#)

deadsh0t - June 25, 2018, 5:38 am

So im making a torrent site for now as a project until i get all the legal stuff sorted im only using magnet urls so this means i dont host any files.
I want opinions on the design how to improve etc.

Ouch, the blue color sucks. Try to find a lighter one. Rotate the magnets 180 degrees. They look scaled too. Is it a font icon?

Looks good so far, not keen on the color scheme but I like the idea.

Look into using gazelle or any of the u232, there are plenty of opensource frameworks for this.

Contact is always a need even on a piracy torrent site people may ask of the deletion of certain torrents maybe because it contains personal info or because it is hidden child pornography or something like that.

However im now building the system to add torrents to the database and it will need to be verified by an site admin before the torrent is let onto the site.

I might also add a report button next to each torrent.

Looks pretty good. I'd work on paginating results, adding searchable tags, and user torrent upload.

In terms of UI, I don't think the plain blue looks very good... Maybe you could try a gradient instead? Check out this site for inspiration: <https://uigradients.com> looks very basic to be honest. But the most important thing is functionality ofc in your case

Yeah indeed i just want a basic sleek looking torrent website where users can easily find what they want since tpb is in most places only accessible thru a proxy and has like 2k popups and ads same with other sites way to much ads bro what url of your torrent site?

eGod - December 23, 2019, 8:12 am

Looks good.

I think some other fonts would be nice, and I think you should find another color instead of the blue one.
