I go to this dating site on my computer thats majority sugar daddys since you know they got that cash. One guy goes oh do u have hangouts and i say no since i lost it on a cruise and he replys with oh show me some pics for a new phone.

omfg, i want fucking money not a fucking phone.
what do I do?

it highly unlikely that he's actually gonna send a phone. but if he somehow is an actual sugar daddy like you stated, and you want cash ; try working around it.

Suggest youd "rather not give out your personal address to have a phone shipped without proof he can even help :* ;)" or something along those lines; let me know what he says.

"A new phone would be great. But I want a new Galaxy Note 9 and they don't come out until August. Maybe you could help me out another way until then".

Come on people. Learn to think on your feet.

"Well I'm trying to buy the new xxx phone, I'm only xxx away so you don't have to send a new one but if you actually help me out with the rest I'd love you forever lol ^^"

You could try that.
