As an additional note, I would like to say that the time after I posted the logs above I found out how to bypass the post restrictions. I informed FADE about this over Discord, that he would need to have a verified Instagram account in his possession in order to bypass the limits (you can see in the logs that the Instagram "rances_suarez05" is verified and that is why, according to FADE, he was able to post all of those mentions) and he did not seem to give the slightest shit. He only gave me more excuses and lies.

It should be fixed now. Try checking it again, please.

I mean to fix that can't you just use something like sleep() to delay the posting process?

That is where the intervals come in, that's exactly what they do. I should've clarified what intervals were in this context, however.

The way to bypass the restrictions is posted at the end of the thread. FADE was made aware of this and decided to shrug it off as if he couldn't give less of a shit about the deal.

Tbh, not dropping $200 on a program that gets blocked after 5 posts.

Bypassing their bot detection was not a part of the deal. As I said, you had acknowledged this multiple times before the deal. The terms state that as well. And you were given a workaround, the only workaround there is to this; verifying your account. Thank you for admitting to the scam.

Not really a scam if you didn't provide me with something that worked..?

It does work though, you were aware of the anti-bot mechanisms that were put in place as seen in the logs and the Pastebin. But you chose to proceed with the deal even with that and the terms are there for a reason as well. Go lie somewhere else instead, the evidence is right there. Scammer.

It does worked then?

And if you were already told about the aforementioned issue, then you shouldn't not agree to continue his work.

Exactly what I had been saying for ages when speaking with this guy (check the logs) and he still refuses to admit that all of this is an issue of his own. He won't care about what happens here though as he dwells on other, competing sites.
