Thread: Chatting groups for startups and entrepreneurs

mawrek - July 1, 2018, 6:03 am can anyone pm me with a link to join the groups related to startups/business/entrepreneurship?

None of the “newbie” groups you join will be worth it

Just a bunch of people making no money, complaining in an internet chat room instead of spending the time working on their business

Start a business that is actually doing something, then you will naturally network with the right people who you can add value to and vice versa

Don't let the negativity here bug you or keep you from finding some. Personally I would google search the topic and find an answer, whether it's here or not.

I have a real estate chat group. If that's your niche, you could possibly join.
