of course mate they are clean with every job, I also noted it on my sales image, that all of my HQ RDP's have residentail ip addresses

Since you said that all of the IP address are residential IP addresses, what solution do you have when the dynamically assigned residential IP addresses changes since most if not all residential customer's IP address are not static? Do you provide a DDNS solution so that we can always know what is the new IP address of the RDP? Or setting up a DDNS so that we do not lose the RDP when the IP address changes is the responsibility of us, the buyer? (something that we have to do our self)?

Also, another question:

How long do these RDP last, or typically last? (a ballpark average that I should expect the RDP to last).

Since you said that this is "blackhat" method, I am assuming that we, the buyer of these RDP suppose to connect to the RDP to setup our "mining rigs" at a schedule that we assume the owner of the computer is not using it (eg: they left the computer on and went to bed or stepped outside?)

Hi, per RDP is individual so I cant tell you exact specifcations number etc...

on sales image there is written basic plan now are 6 RDP's you can buy it and test for example one of my residentail RDP

(Jul 13, 2018 08:57 AM)UpperGod Wrote: [\[CITE\]](#) what is the rdp's specification? processor? speed?

rdp is lifetime?

I answered that per RDP are individual but most of my RDP's are high speficiations like i7 Cpu's Intel Xeon's with huge hard drives and Rams all RDP's I give you for lifetime not for 30 days ?

hello mate most of my RDP's have huge uptime so no worries about holding, you shoudnt do restart,shutdown, execute ransomware or some cryptolockers and they would be for a long time, what about second question I have plenty RDP's and I'm not interested to work with single RDP's there are services where you can buy single RDP so its your choice what you pick up ?

You solve my problem? Lol..

Short history:

4th September: Ordered small order, made payment, seller said "You will get it in 2 hours" (didn't notify it before getting payment)

5th September: Sends order. I ordered 3 TR RDP but sends 1 French and 2 TR out of 1 not working.

Then asks me to re-edit my post. I said, I will re-edit my post once you have fulfilled my order correctly (ie. receiving 3 working TR RDP not 1 French and 2 TR.)

Then the convo is as follows:

My Jabber (Jabber) Sep 06, 2018 15:03:01

bro look. I make a very small order with you. Just 5 pcs. You say I'll send in 2 hours (even though you didn't say this at the begin of the deal) and I say ok no problem. Then I wait whole day for you here so I can start some work and you don't even notify me saying you won't be able to deliver yesterday. I also don't like such unprofessional way of doing business. Then, 24 hours later, you send 3 RDP of which 1 is not even TR. And now you say "I don't like such post". Come on, let's be fair here.....

benman@jabbim.sk Sep 06, 2018 15:05:15

yes because I can't do this I'm at trip and all rdp's I have its located to my second device

because I wanted time

thegestapo@jwchat.org (Jabber) Sep 06, 2018 15:06:26 too bad you don't mention this when placing the order. and again, you said 2 hours and now you're on a trip. Its ok man no worries I'm around and have bought 75 rdp from another seller and when you're ready to fulfill the order, you can do it. thanks

10:24:35 benman@jabbim.sk has become Away

He takes the payment, then says 'I'm on a trip you will get in 2 hours', then doesn't come back for 24 hours, comes back, only to ask me to remove my post here, sends me 3 orders of 1 not even TR as I wanted, says "will replace that one" and this has been 4 days now to replace 1 rdp, then comes here and says "I solved issue I try my best always to solve immediately" ? lol

Benman, take a look at uas-rdp services and some other professional RDP providers out there to say "I'm one of the best". I'm sorry bro but I've been online since carderplanet and shawdowncrew forums and you are definitely NOT one of the best. Not even in top 20 of the best.

Furthermore, the RDPs I saw from you, which is only 2 and not 2 as the third one was French not Turkish as I ordered (and notified you), are of low quality.

Anyway..I'm not spending here time writing this cause of few dollars..I truly do not care, hence I have not written you for 4 days.

I just wrote now to reply to your post about "lol I solve his problem ? how you think why I have so many customers because I'm one of the best RDP Provider and I don't need any remind, when I have issue I try my best always to solve immediately" lol...

Have a good day mate.

Do you provide a DDNS solution so that we can always know what is the new IP address of the RDP? Or setting up a DDNS so that we do not lose the RDP when the IP address changes is the responsibility of us, the buyer? (something that we have to do our self)?

Also, another question:

How long do these RDP last, or typically last? (a ballpark average that I should expect the RDP to last).

Since you said that this is "blackhat" method, I am assuming that we, the buyer of these RDP suppose to connect to the RDP to setup our "mining rigs" at a schedule that we assume the owner of the computer is not using it (eg: they left the computer on and went to bed or stepped outside?)

Hi, do you have Any UK residential RDp?

So all of my RDP's are individual some RDP have Cpu Intel Xeon from E5 Family (with that Cpu has really high Hashrate approximately maybe 100 H/s maybe 850 H/s)

Yes I have Geotarget RDP's which includes also UK ?

yes they have good uptime, just if you want to hold for a long time term you shoudnt do restart/shutdown execute any cryptolocker or ransomware on RDP

I wrote in above that all of them are individual so some of them maybe have like this 168 H/s like this maybe much more or lower but most of my RDP's have huge specifcations thats why them are good for Mining

I bought 10 RDP paying 30$ in BTC:

- Delivered just 6 RDP;
- Just 1 on 6 worked after delivering;
- Benman disappeared.

SO BAD EXPERIENCE.
