Thread: Leet Forums - Technology, Gaming, and Programming Community

NotFredStevens - July 7, 2018, 7:18 pm

Site Name: Leet Forums

URL: leetforums.net

Type: Forum - MyBB

Site Description: We at Leet Forums have a plethora of different topics to offer. Our Lounge has a jokes/memes sub-forum for all your cancerous 4chan-like threads. We offer a section where you can talk about basic technology as well. We're equipped with a decent coding and programming section where you can share your sources or simply just discuss programming languages. For the gamers, we have a gaming section, where you can talk about PC, console, and even mobile gaming. Recent changes include features such as liking posts and awards. Become an HQ member and wrack em' up. We just recently added an Elite user group that you can apply for, though there are requirements you must meet first.

Any new member from HF will recieve an award.

This seems kind of like a competing site

A few updates:Theme heavily updated

User groups up for purchase (using forum credits, not IRL money)

We got leaks now for the skids

Back end/easter egg stuff

You got 'er. I liked how clean and sleek the theme was.

NotFredStevens - August 5, 2018, 7:03 pm

Made a lot of backend changes and frontend theme-wise changes.

Nice theme but you should make the width smaller

Snow. - August 26, 2018, 2:15 pm

Seems pretty good although, I'd recommend making the theme a bit wider, and maybe work on the mobile version a bit more. One last thing you are right about one thing; it is not a hacking forum however it is pretty much identical in its features and style. It sort of reminds me of the early days of HF, although I'm in no position to judge especially if Omni is ok with this, you should still focus on your security and watch out for some HF patriots around here.

Looking sharp and decent good luck! ?

Probably the most important factor when I consider signing up on a website nowadays.

NoSuchAgency - August 26, 2018, 5:15 pm

Get yourself a good mobile responsive theme. Looks alright but also seems like a competing site. HF is barely a hacking forum.
