Thread: [\[Official\] CE Professionals \(Executives\) | Socialites SF | Recruitment #1](#)

Theocritus - July 8, 2018, 4:16 pm

Welcome all to the first recruitment for my brand new CE group.
in cooperation with Aurora, this group will be under the official Socialites group. We will have our own SF (sub-forum), within the aforementioned Socialites group.
You will naturally also acquire the Socialites userbar if you are accepted into my new group.
Group Concept

This group will expand with time, but for this first recruitment, only beginner, intermediary & veteran currency exchangers may apply.

The concept of this new group is for all professional and semi professional currency exchangers to share their knowledge, tips, tricks, advice and more with each other. Not only this, but also to potentially share knowledge about customers you may want to blacklist, highlight etc. There are many roads this group can go down, and i will do my best to expand and improve it over time.

Exchanging Requirements & Ranking

50-250 Exchanges = Beginner
250-500 Exchanges = Intermediary
500+ Exchanges = Veteran

Now there is no way i can 100% accurately determine if you are below or above a certain ranking as of now. But i will ask you all to be as honest and precise as you can, so you can make my job at least a little easier.

If you have not yet done at least 50 exchanges, then i'm sorry, but you will have to reach that number before you will be eligible to apply for this group.

Other than that i do not have any other rock hard requirements as of yet. applications will be reviewed on a case to case basis, and will be accepted or declined at my own discretion accordingly.

Why do you want to join CE Professionals?

I work daily with many payment processors including cryptocurrencies. I would like to share my knowledge and experience. This might be one of the first groups that I don't want to join for the userbar and lounge only, the subject just really interests me.

Are you or have you previously run an exchange service/thread on HF? If so, please note it below and tell me a little about it.

No.

What can you contribute to this group and its future development?

I have worked with so many payment processors, literally I don't think anyone here has worked with more than me. I'd like to list them:

- PayPal
- Payza (formerly AlertPay)
- Skrill (formerly MoneyBookers)
- Neteller
- PerfectMoney
- WMZ
- MoneyPolo (formerly OkPay)
- Liberty Reserve (does not exist anymore)
- MoneyGram
- Western Union (online sending as well)
- Payoneer
- SWIFT & International Bank Transfers
- Bitcoin & many other cryptocurrencies.

I know so much about the things I listed, I can share my experience and help everyone when they have issues with them.

Have you been in any other groups in the past?

Yes

Do you honestly think you can contribute to this group with the knowledge and/or experience you currently possess?

Yes. Like I stated before I worked with many payment processors. I know a lot about them. I can give tips on how to withdraw your money faster, prevent high fees, help them with disputes/claims and prevent limitations (in a legal, whitehat way). I can help people on how to approach a certain payment processors customer support, since they vary from each other, not all of them are of high quality. Payment processors, exchanging virtual currencies and online banking are my area of expertise.

Is there anything else you want to note or make me aware of? I don't exchange on HF. I never need such services as I know how to get my desired currency without paying any fee for it. I do not run a exchange service because I already have other sources of income. This doesn't change the fact that I can assist people though. To be honest I'd say I am a veteran on this subject. I have done so many exchanges, mostly offsite and not only with cryptocurrencies. If this prevents me from joining, then no problem. I am really convinced of myself though that I can contribute a lot.

Why do you want to join CE Professionals?

I think it'd be good fun to join a new group which I am able to devote my time to and contribute to group projects in. I've been involved in currency exchanges for a few years and I feel that I'd be able to contribute greatly to the group. I haven't been "fully" involved in a group before and I feel like CE Professionals would be a chance to do so.

Are you or have you previously run an exchange service/thread on HF? If so, please note it below and tell me a little about it.

Yes, many.

<https://hackforums.net/showthread.php?tid=5724167> - BTC to Paypal exchange service, probably completed around 200~ exchanges during the period where this thread was active.

<https://hackforums.net/showthread.php?tid=5769158> - BTC/Paypal for UK AGC thread, again, completed many exchanges within the hundreds.

How many exchanges have you done in total on HF?

Hard to be certain on such a number, but I'd say around 350~ or more exchanges roughly throughout my threads.

Have you had any deal disputes opened on you in the past?

None.

What can you contribute to this group and its future development?

I have a large knowledge within the Currency Exchange scene on HF and would love to share my knowledge with newer members. There's been quite a spike in scam reports and deal disputes recently, creating guides and tutorials for the newbies on HF would be good fun and benefit Hack Forums in the long-term, hopefully decreasing the number of new members being scammed by older members. With the introduction of the new contracts system, I feel this group can help newer members looking to take part in currency exchanges by providing them with guides on how to use the contracts system effectively and also how to spot a malicious user who may scam.

Have you been in any other groups in the past?

Yes. Influence, Terminal, Sheepgang and a few others.

Do you honestly think you can contribute to this group with the knowledge and/or experience you currently possess?

Yes. I've dealt with many PayPal disputes, currency exchange situations and game item deals. It's something I have knowledge in and I'd love to be able to contribute towards the group.

Is there anything else you want to note or make me aware of?

Nope.

Theocritus - July 14, 2018, 4:15 am

Thank you for your applications people, they will be looked over today

Finally! I was waiting for this group ever since you made that discussion thread about it.

Why do you want to join CE Professionals?

I've previously been in a few unofficial CE groups and all of them were pretty awesome. CE groups offer a lot of perks that everyone (including me) can take advantage of. From past experience they help a lot with communicating with other exchangers, getting quick exchanges done faster and safer, and the general trust that people have in you as an exchanger.

Are you or have you previously run an exchange service/thread on HF? If so, please note it below and tell me a little about it.

Pretty much all of my public on-site CE threads involve some sort of AGC exchanging. Whether buying or selling.

Amazon GC SHOP v1.0 - <https://hackforums.net/showthread.php?tid=5401227>

Amazon GC SHOP v2.0 - <https://hackforums.net/showthread.php?tid=5838602>

Automatic AGC Shop - <https://hackforums.net/showthread.php?tid=5281410>

If you snoop around my older threads (early-mid 2017 and late 2016) you'll see a few minor Amazon exchanges and that's mostly what I've focused on in my CE career.

Other than that, I've exchanged BTC, ETH, XMR, PP, Skrill, and more. Most of those exchanges took place in the off-site CE groups. I focus on AGC a lot though.

How many exchanges have you done in total on HF?

If we're talking strictly on-site that would be 100-150 exchanges, but adding the CE group exchanges, that number is closer to 250-300.

Have you had any deal disputes opened on you in the past?

Yes. All proven invalid. You can search my UID (16998) yourself and read through each one. They're all closed and completely debunked. Results of misunderstandings and Skype impersonation. No valid ones open as of now nor will there be valid ones.

What can you contribute to this group and its future development?

Mostly tips and tricks. Quality threads. Helping other members and non-members. Guiding newbies, etc.

Have you been in any other groups in the past?

Yes. I've been in around 10-15 groups throughout the last 3 years. I was in some before that as well I think.

Do you honestly think you can contribute to this group with the knowledge and/or experience you currently possess?

I think so. Mostly my experience with Amazon and their gift cards, as well as other payment processors (how they function, talking to their support, how to use them to their fullest potential, etc). I have a lot of experience with cryptocurrencies as well and it's not just exchanging experience but development as well. I've been dabbling in crypto for a long ass time now. Investing and working out the insides.

Is there anything else you want to note or make me aware of?
Nope.

MrHappy - July 14, 2018, 7:19 am

Will apply once I meet the requirements. Seems like an interesting group!

Theocritus - July 17, 2018, 8:54 am

all applications have now been reviewed

sssniwerwolf - July 18, 2018, 12:47 pm

Why do you want to join CE Professionals?

I'd like to join CE Professionals because I actually use the currency exchange section almost everyday. I usually buy amazon giftcards or transfer paypal to cryptocurrency whether it be bitcoin or ethereum.

Are you or have you previously run an exchange service/thread on HF? If so, please note it below and tell me a little about it.

I have started a couple threads in the currency exchange section, but once I find a buyer/seller I tend to stick to one person because it will minimize the risk of being scammed.

<https://hackforums.net/showthread.php?tid=5837160>

<https://hackforums.net/showthread.php?tid=5847464>

How many exchanges have you done in total on HF?

Unique exchanges I'd say around 100-150. With the same people, I'd say around 250-300 exchanges in total. A few members I deal with a lot would be Wooden Vittorio Rotely All highly trusted not a single issue whenever I need something exchanged it gets completed.

Have you had any deal disputes opened on you in the past?

No deal disputes Spoiler \(Click to View\)

What can you contribute to this group and its future development?

Well I can surely help with any exchanges that need to be completed my two main transactions are from crypto and paypal, I also should get more involved in using contracts myself I don't always use them when I'm talking to one of my trusted exchangers. But the only way I will get my B-rep up is by using the contract system.

Have you been in any other groups in the past?

I've been a part of multiple groups and I'm still in quite a few right now.

Do you honestly think you can contribute to this group with the knowledge and/or experience you currently possess?

Honestly I believe I can help with the currency exchange section, I'll make sure new members don't get scammed and are famillure with how the contract system works afterall that's what omni wants us to get use to.

Is there anything else you want to note or make me aware of?

Keep me updated, I'm excited to see a group come to the currency exchange section this will help a lot of new members and decrease the amount of scammers, also it will bring use to the new contract system.

Very good group to be in Run by Theo

The Red Skull - July 19, 2018, 12:21 pm

Why do you want to join CE Professionals?

I'd love to join a group where I can network and grow and share knowledge with like minded people. This is a great way to connect with other exchanges, give advice, but also receive.

Are you or have you previously run an exchange service/thread on HF? If so, please note it below and tell me a little about it.

Yes: <https://hackforums.net/showthread.php?tid=5591981>

I have a rather large CE service where I exchange daily with costumers. A lot of deals were done via PM before the contract system was implemented. I have never had one issue with my exchanges, no deal disputes or anything involving CE and I often exchanged very high dollar amounts.

How many exchanges have you done in total on HF?

I've done well over 75 unique user exchanges in total with HF members exclusively. Like I said, many were conducted via PM before the contract system and thats why the vouch list wouldn't equate 75. I've done well over 200 exchanges with users if we aren't counting unique users, as in someone buys from me more than once (repeat costumers)

Have you had any deal disputes opened on you in the past?

Yes, in my close to 5 years on HF I have had two. One of which was proven to not be my fault, and another in which the issue was concluded offsite. None of these were in any shape or form related to CE. I have done thousands in CE deals with not one compliant.

What can you contribute to this group and its future development?

I can contribute constant activity and a willingness to learn, teach and help anyone in the group. I would think of it sort of as a fraternity.

Have you been in any other groups in the past?

Nope, I've never applied or paid to be in a group. Never found the focus relevant, this is the first group I can grow in and bring something to the table.

Do you honestly think you can contribute to this group with the knowledge and/or experience you currently possess?

I definitely do, I take CE seriously and hold myself to a high expectation for my costumers. I am always looking for news relating to CE and ways to make my business more efficient, profitable and safe for both parties. I feel like I can share my knowledge and experience with all members. I've been doing this quite some time and have many related stories and practices to share.

Is there anything else you want to note or make me aware of?

I'd just like to thank you for your consideration and ask that if you have any questions or concerns to contact me directly and I will be more then happy to discuss them with you.

Theocritus - July 20, 2018, 2:10 pm

all new applications will be reviewed in the morning

Theocritus - July 24, 2018, 12:28 pm

invitations to the accepted members will be going out shortly

Omise - July 24, 2018, 8:37 pm

Why do you want to join CE Professionals?

The group intrigues me, the knowledge that will be shared entices me; I feel like I have much room for growth and would love to be mentored in this group. The group has the potential to drive rates down and to set a new standard in the CE section. I would love to be a part of the group and to contribute to the change we'll bring to the CE forum.

Are you or have you previously run an exchange service/thread on HF? If so, please note it below and tell me a little about it.

I have been exchanging on HackForums since April 2018. I sell Bitcoin for Zelle, CashApp, PayPal, Venmo, Western Union, etc. I usually get my customers from BTC wanted threads in the CE forum.

How many exchanges have you done in total on HF?

I've completed a little over 100 exchanges, 85 of them through PayPal and handfuls through other payment processors.

Have you had any deal disputes opened on you in the past?

I have never had a deal dispute opened against me. I take pride in my service and enjoy working with my customers to give them the best experience possible.

What can you contribute to this group and its future development?

I doubt I can contribute much more than my time, I'm sure there are senior members who know everything I know and more, and I'm looking forward to learning from them.

Have you been in any other groups in the past?

No, I have never applied for a group in the past. CE Professionals presents me with a few things none of the other groups here have.

The idea of us coming together to improve the CE section is something I can get behind completely. The opportunity to learn from members that have been doing this for years and to then pass that knowledge on - it just excites me.

Do you honestly think you can contribute to this group with the knowledge and/or experience you currently possess?

No, not yet. I know what I need to know right now, but there's much for me to learn. Hopefully I can grow and learn as a member of the group so that I can give back knowledge that was given to me.

Is there anything else you want to note or make me aware of?

Godspeed Theocritus, I hope the group is everything you hope it will be and more. I know I'm not the type of member you're looking for right now, but I couldn't be okay with myself if I didn't even attempt to apply.

Woods - July 25, 2018, 2:14 pm

Why do you want to join CE Professionals?

I personally want to join CE Professionals because CE plays a big part in my life financially allowing me to live a stable life in college without the stress of a part-time job while attempting to fill my requirements at my university.

Are you or have you previously run an exchange service/thread on HF? If so, please note it below and tell me a little about it.

How many exchanges have you done in total on HF?

Veteran rank most definitely, my time on HF I have completed close to 1,000 deals!

Have you had any deal disputes opened on you in the past?

Have done many deals, not one has ever been an issue on my part.

What can you contribute to this group and its future development?

I am able to contribute with my experience with PayPal troubleshooting, processing payments using:

PayPal

CashApp

Zelle

Google Wallet

Venmo

BTC

LTC

Have you been in any other groups in the past?

Yes. SheepGang, Revolution

Do you honestly think you can contribute to this group with the knowledge and/or experience you currently possess?

Knowledge wise and experience I am able to provide a lot of information to new and growing exchangers since I'm going into my 5th year of currency exchanging and was a PayPal holder for many which required a massive amount of time and dedication to deal with PayPal support and learn their reasons for limitations, suspicion, security checks and so on. PayPal and I have had a bumpy on and off relationship over the years.

Is there anything else you want to note or make me aware of?

I have been waiting for you to introduce this group to the forum for a while and happy to finally see it happen!

Why do you want to join CE Professionals?

I've done well over 150 deals on HF for over $5K. A community of exchangers who take it seriously can benefit everyone who uses CE on this site. A community of exchangers can warn other exchangers about scammers, members they trust doing CE with, and the best places to accumulate cryptos to sell

Started doing CE to help pay for random expenses at college and going out and it has now turned into something I use to make money so I can save my money from my summer job and sports betting portfolio.

How many exchanges have you done in total on HF?

I have 55 exchanges for over $4000 in total documented in my excel file but stopped recording them on 5/22 and have been exchanging multiple times daily since.

Have you had any deal disputes opened on you in the past?

I have had 0 disputes opened against me.

What can you contribute to this group and its future development?

The safest way to CE, members I trust doing CE with, and places to get the best rates at for buying crypto. I'm also very good with PayPal and even won over $1k+ in deal disputes

Have you been in any other groups in the past?

Nope.

Do you honestly think you can contribute to this group with the knowledge and/or experience you currently possess?

Yes, I've been doing CE since early March and have learned a lot, how to maximize profit, and be safe while doing it.

Is there anything else you want to note or make me aware of?

That I swapped over $800 with Baba Yaga and he chargedback every single transaction with me. I won every single case.
