

Forum:Hack Forums

Thread: anyone

l9taiga9l - July 10, 2018, 10:59 pm

any one got links to hacking tools to hack instagram, facebook, snapchat, twitter, email addresses, google accounts? would help out a ton and ill return the favor.

dvlp - July 11, 2018, 4:15 pm

(Jul 10, 2018 10:59 PM)l9taiga9l Wrote: [\[CITE\]](#) any one got links to hacking tools to hack instagram, facebook, snapchat, twitter, email addresses, google accounts? would help out a ton and ill return the favor.

There are a lot of "crackers" advertised on this site (which I do NOT recommend buying if you do not know what that they actually do or how they work), but other than that no one will just drop you links without knowing your intentions or your competency level. Those companies you listed above are not stupid, there is no magical website that just logs you into someones snapchat or google account. Your best bet is to put some time into it, understand how experienced hackers do it, and then teach yourself how to social engineer, etc.

Unfortunately for you, brute forcing a password to any program/service is going to be the hardest and most time-consuming thing you can ever do. I personally just stay away from even trying.

The best tool is your brain. I recommend getting into DOXing first, then build on your knowledge from there. I would also note that HF is not a one stop shop to becoming a hacker. You need to understand that hacking takes a lot of logical processing and psychology that you need to understand in addition to the technology. Long time users do not take it lightly when people are on here looking to hack their friends V-bucks because he didn't watch his six.

moneyyyy - July 18, 2018, 5:30 am

Set up a fake login, but the person you would like to hack need to be a little dumb.

eightbits12 - July 23, 2018, 9:28 am

If only life was that easy

Jacque Fresco - July 23, 2018, 12:00 pm

(Jul 11, 2018 04:15 PM)dvlp Wrote: [\[CITE\]](#) There are a lot of "crackers" advertised on this site (which I do NOT recommend buying if you do not know what that they actually do or how they work), but other than that no one will just drop you links without knowing your intentions or your competency level. Those companies you listed above are not stupid, there is no magical website that just logs you into someones snapchat or google account. Your best bet is to put some time into it, understand how experienced hackers do it, and then teach yourself how to social engineer, etc.

Unfortunately for you, brute forcing a password to any program/service is going to be the hardest and most time-consuming thing you can ever do. I personally just stay away from even trying.

The best tool is your brain. I recommend getting into DOXing first, then build on your knowledge from there. I would also note that HF is not a one stop shop to becoming a hacker. You need to understand that hacking takes a lot of logical processing and psychology that you need to understand in addition to the technology. Long time users do not take it lightly when people are on here looking to hack their friends V-bucks because he didn't watch his six.

Very good post here, i have nothing more to say (:

dvlp - July 23, 2018, 12:58 pm

(Jul 23, 2018 12:00 PM)Jacque Fresco Wrote: [\[CITE\]](#) Very good post here, i have nothing more to say (:

Always appreciated

bobsakino - July 24, 2018, 7:18 am

contact me I can help you with keylogger

I9taiga9I - July 24, 2018, 9:40 am

I appreciate the replys,thank you all ^_^