The trade was initiated, and I accepted going first, despite being unfamiliar with new market system. It was a 1:1 trade my XMR and BCH for his bitcoins. I accepted and transferred. He suddenly ignores my PM's and cancels trade.

<https://hackforums.net/contracts.php?action=view&cid=2992> is the contract.

<http://prntscr.com/k57ut6> it's evident he has opened my messages but ignores.

Fuck, that's a fair bit of money involved there. Seems like a legit report sorry that this has happened to you.

Thank you. I just want him to rightfully return my money. Even half and he can keep the rest! He doesn't know what's going on IRL and how much I needed it.

THIS seems like a common way to scam right now. Everyone needs to make sure the contract is fully accepted by both sides before dealing

I was very unfamiliar with it and that was my mistake. Costly and sad, though.

User is a know scammer

What a piece of shit, hope that bitch gets closed.

Check is UID and see why he's a PoS.
