The download seems to be clean, here is a screenshot for everyone to see:

However @OP I suggest looking into using GDI to draw custom elements instead of using images, one of my first custom UI attempts was pretty similar to yours when I first started.

Keep at it and don't give up.

PS. You can find plenty of themes here using GDI as a reference, just use the search feature.

Thanks Sho?k for the screenshot

I will definitely save it to use it on some simple project. Thanks MajidRamlawi !

That looks like a good start mate. I would suggest having a look on Google for some UI designs to get ideas on how to make some improvements with your next themes. Trust me, if you keep at it, your themes will look professional in no time.
