Thread: Didn't PM's used to require 20 quality posts?

Henez - July 15, 2018, 7:28 pm

Title, I swear to god.. it used to be 20 quality posts unless I'm stupid and not remembering correctly.

Ravioli - July 15, 2018, 7:37 pm

this one wouldn't count anyways

PerfectStorm - July 15, 2018, 8:26 pm

Im pretty sure it was 25 posts but unsure.

G?df?t?? - July 15, 2018, 9:05 pm

My question is; how would you know that? You're a new account.

You guys might want to double check the year he joined.

OP i joined a few months before you and it was 25 then

Killy - July 15, 2018, 9:19 pm

why not just post 10 more times ? haha

not too hard

It's always been 25 posts before you can send pms

I should have made it more clear in my first reply

i was referring to you quoting another guy who asked how a new account would know that. I figured you guys thought he joined this month when he joined a year ago this month

Yes I seen that after my first reply.
It's all good ?

I don't remember what the number was for sure when I joined but I always remember needing quite a few posts. I don't think that it's a very hard requirement to hit. If you really want to, 25 posts in a day isn't too hard to legitimately obtain without spamming.

Doesn't matter what it was. It's currently 25. It's been 50, 10, 20, and I think even 100 before. It's 25 right now.
