Remote Administrative Tool Conference v.2018

Sponsored by

OBJECTIVE

We as Remote Administrative Technologies are used to being our own Islands, so to speak. Although competitors in nature we share the same battle field and have common enemies. The focus to this organization it to bring the Developers together, discuss existing and potential future issues to our marketshare and place, and how to best address these factors.

We have entities working together to bring sole proprietors down for simple design of software, they win because they are forces of numbers, again, we work as our own islands, it is time to break this cycle.

Competition or not, it is high time we start an open discussion towards the future of our technologies.

WHO IS INVITED?

All actively Developed RATs, Supporters on a high degree, or those of special invitation.

HOW TO APPLY TO THE CONFERENCE?

Owners of Remote Tools have an open invitation to this conference.
Heavy supporters, those in this section I hope to see and hear from as well.

To apply it is simple.
Post to this thread.

Nick (Name) - July 17, 2018, 6:11 pm

I expect to see everyone in their best formal apparel, I will be attending uninvitedly.

int - July 17, 2018, 6:20 pm

I sort of develop rats sometimes (check my sig)

Exodus - July 17, 2018, 6:28 pm

When is one considered a "Heavy supporter"?

I think it's either over 300 lbs or a bmi over 18%

In all serious though this is interesting. I do wonder though because other RATs don't police malicious use as actively as ORCUS if this can be used by someone to argue that you are assisting in malicious use. Not saying I'd agree with that argument, but I can see a prosecutor taking that route

Friedrich Nietzsche - July 17, 2018, 6:33 pm

Is this going to be a physical thing or virtual thing? I definitely hope it will be the second and it will be via a secure mean.

If it is such then I would certainly be interested in participating.

Digital based...

We will generate a channel for everything, a chat server if needs be.

<https://riot.im/> would be an appropriate choice as it supports E2EE on rooms with multiple people (while both rocket chat and OTR protocol do not).

Anyways, PM me once the thing is set up, it would be more than fun to take part in this.

I've used riot.im before, would be a good choice for a digital conference.

SIM-2875347 - July 17, 2018, 7:26 pm

I'd certainly be interested in participating, a digital conference or however you are planning to do this sounds like a great idea. I likewise agree with the idea of collaborating. Keep us posted!

I was hoping for your support on this idea, I honestly do believe we need to make this closer knit so to speak.

Brill - July 17, 2018, 8:27 pm will non RAT devs be able to attend or listen in?

I find this hard to believe in all reality.

Jacque Fresco - July 17, 2018, 11:29 pm

Of course .. hit me up, even if my threads never showed a actual developed RAT. i still develop and can bring in several new ideas .. that springs out of my mind kind of every week.

Click me to see some proofs

Spoiler \(Click to View\)

First implementation plan of a new Concept idea, i had to make a botnet/rat, that can handle every command while in a single threaded environment.

This was Firstly intended as a botnet, but i build in tcp functionality and now i can remote control.

Since posting this last night I've gotten a lot of queries regarding invitations.

I believe this will be split in to 2 sections at this degree.

Developer Access - Free range, with the expectation to be a notable speaker of the conference.
(Thats the entire objective)

Consumer Access - Paid for access to participate in the conversation.

How the fuck is that securee

Mac Miller - July 18, 2018, 7:39 am

I'm not a RAT Owner or Dev but I would love to listen in. If you allow spectators lmk

Black Hat - July 18, 2018, 8:11 am

Would like to apply for developer access, thanks.

Currently working on a python RAT, don't judge.

tweety - July 18, 2018, 8:13 am

im interested to attend

i wanna see how many people get arrested off this :^) h4ckerman - July 18, 2018, 8:13 am

Hey Armada could I get a special invitation :) It's Kreg btw I changed my name

Don't know why they should use a secure platform, they should have it recorded and all logs accessible.

criminal??????????????? - July 19, 2018, 6:56 pm

invite me to the group and we've got a deal sir

TOM - July 19, 2018, 10:39 pm

I'd certainly be interested in participating too , Keep me updated bruh

Akara Products - July 20, 2018, 1:00 am

Im also interested, sounds promising. Hit me up. :)

juulstar - July 21, 2018, 11:55 am

I'd love an invite. I do SA work over the summer so I have to use RATS quite a bit.

Can i join this "Conference" ???

Viotto01 - July 25, 2018, 9:21 am

Good idea, I have been thinking about similar thing.
Sign me in!

hackfoums - July 25, 2018, 9:42 am

I would like to apply also as mouthpiece for the omnirat devs. I will forward all necessary information to them

Purple Kief - July 25, 2018, 7:50 pm

I'll take an invitation if I can get one.

lordomega7 - July 26, 2018, 4:15 am

I would be more than happy to participate. A collaboration like this would certainly benefit all the developers. I think it's a great idea.

DethByte - July 26, 2018, 8:24 pm

how would one obtain an invite?

SUI-3183372 - July 27, 2018, 1:17 am

Im thinking a few weeks from now, maybe a month to organize.. I wanted to test waters before I set anything in to stone, so to speak.

HMU, we can work together on the project. ?

Meanwhile criminals all over the world using your "legit" tools for malicious purpose, malware analysts are reversing and reporting about it, and law enforcement is collecting evidence for scheduled indictments...

Enjoy your "conference" punks...
This is going to be so much funnier to me -- soon. Patience is a virtue.

Take your trolling out of here, all you do is hate upon Orcus and Armada, I'm starting to think you have a fetish for them.

hydra11 - July 31, 2018, 1:55 am i really like to suggest all dev to give proper costumer support for ur clients as of now am an active user of omnirat which have very bad uptime and 10% client support really frustrated with that rat

cthulhu1337 - August 12, 2018, 9:53 pm

Id also be interested in participating, this sounds like a good idea.
