Thread: Amazon Exploit

Riyu - July 18, 2018, 1:44 pm

This is a sister of the exploit I was selling. This will only work on small $ orders such as ranging from 0 to $120.

A minimum investment is required of $20.

With this you can buy stuff for free with that price range.

Is it possible for Amazon to catch on?

FatStacks - July 24, 2018, 1:07 pm

This is most likely just a refund method saying something along the lines of 'wasnt delivered' and he is saying no se required because it a script?? The fact it doesnt work on gift cards is kind of pointing that direction

Guessing it's sites like Paxful and that's why it doesn't work with AGC but works with other GC?

booger99 - July 25, 2018, 11:08 am

But how does it differ than just refunding? How is your method better than just plain refunding a item?

how much can you then use it before calling it abuse?

Since the cost is so high, I'm just thinking of making at least ROI here.

knowing amazon do not expect to last it long. Like every other method regarding amazon when it hits the mainstream forums it already began spreading.
Just think it from your standpoint. Why would you sell your bread and butter method if it is bringing you constant cash.
I really do think the OP has a working method but it is a ticking time bomb.

Since the cost is so high, I'm just thinking of making at least ROI here. You can use it as long as you don't share with others to get it patched. You can make your money back within a day if you use multiple accs.

I don't really see how this is different from Amazon refunding, it's still exploiting Amazon to get free stuff, thought Amazon was a big no no on this forum when it came to shit like that?

As far as I know. Only Social Engineering as such is a big no no.

Looking to purchase but the price tag has me a little hesitant. How often can this be done? Is it one individual item at a time or can I order multiple? Can I use the same address? Can I use the same amazon account for purchases?
