I MUST hold the embarrassingly #1 record for the amount of times one person has changed their username over the course of the last 8 years, lmao. I'm sure this current one will change again next week now too tbh.

Anyone else got more than this? Curious how many other people do, lol. Also, this place is completely different than like 2-3 months ago, holyshit.
inb4 this thread is random and serves no purpose

I used to change my name a bit but its nice having the same one for a while so people can get familiar with your name.

Its really all about just picking that 1 name that you can call your own for good.

Why don't you like sticking to 1 alias?

It's a good question. I was an official E-Book Reviewer here awhile ago and kept the name Immortality, but that was awhile ago. That was probably my most used Alias prior to taking a break. ldk.

I should consult with the voices in my head tonight and do some Ayuasca and ask them maybe... ?

A few years ago, Someone spam changed their username 1337 times and then got their account closed. I hope someone can find it, cause I sure as hell don't remember.

That must of taken some dedication, lmao.

At least I'm not the only one!
