You do realise everything you mentioned in your OP about people selling other shit, is unethical so why would this be any different xD You're not going to get a LEGAL method to get free/50% off flights

Skyscanner always fucks with me, 'updating'/changing prices when I click an option. I also truly dislike their interface. Haven't tried kiwi.

I usually set an alert in google flights, so I get an email when a cheap flight becomes available. It's always been accurate for me
