Hello Dear HF users!

Today I want to offer You my coding service!

Do You need a website for Your business or maybe You need a software that will make Your life easier?

Well then You came to the right place!

Me and my co-worker might not be the most experience programmers in the world, but we are motivated to write whatever You need as long as we are capable of doing so!

We are learning about new technologies and we will make sure that whatever You need will be up to date and made just as You want it to!

We are both starting last year of University next year, but right now we`ve got all time in the world to focus on Your projects!

Maybe You want us to create You a portfolio website?

Maybe You need a simple bot?

or You need someone to update Your website?

Do not hesitate and hire us!

Prices will be discussed invidualy depending on project difficulty and time it will take!

If you want more details make sure to send a pm!

After a long break I am back. Have been working on personal projects and educating myself to become better at what I do.

Do You need .Net web application? Some updates on your website? I am ready to take smaller tasks as for now, because of my 9 to 5 job.

Do not hesitate to send me pm. Always before I start a project I will make sure I can suit your needs and if not then I will tell you that so won't waste your time!

I am free to work right now. Took a break due to professional career and university. If anyone needs a small size project, some updates on website or maybe university assignmentI should be able to help!

Do not hesitate to send me pm. Always before I start a project I will make sure I can suit your needs and if not then I will tell you that so won't waste your time!
