I've seen this type of concept with ETH before. I kinda like it but then again, never looked much into it so can't say much but yeaaa.. looking hella cute!

I'm really tempted to buy some "cuties".

sssniperwolf - July 23, 2018, 10:59 am

Is this cryptokitties 2.0?

Compulsive - July 23, 2018, 11:00 am

Yeah what happened to Cryptokitties?

I haven't registered or anything yet but I can vouch websites will be using these as say their support icon or helpful tips - I don't quite know how the site works and if you can start from scratch with 0 money invested but i'll give it a go later and find out.

Time to breed like crazy and start selling off cuties. Also need to make a hacker looking mofo and give him to Omni.

Yeah but cryptokitties was garbage, the entire thing is still new (less than a year old) and these mofos are 10x cuter.

I had extremely high hopes that this would be a form of legal online prostitution... I'm going to masturbate and coddle a tub of Häagen-Dazs now... ?

This is legal online prostitution - look how cute these are. If you can pop one out to fan service anime, you can pop one out to these.

Well played my good Sir... very well played... ?

Whoah, now this catches my attention.. :o

Kitsune is like my spirit animal now, it's so cute and I'm not even sure if it's a male or female but that doesn't even matter. ?

Also, for anyone confused or just wants to learn more on how this works, here's a Medium article:

I only use RSGP as currency, nothing else.
