Thread: r00t Features and Permissions Fixed

Omniscient - July 23, 2018, 1:09 pm

For those who upgraded into r00t but had permission error pages and such please note that all features of r00t should now work. If by chance you run into a permission error page you feel is in error (odd wording) then please PM me.

I also renamed the ub3rviewwarnings.php page to simply viewwarnings.php since it's not an ub3r only feature anymore. Changes were done in the plugin and the Extras page but again, any errors please LMK.

I edit a few dozen files today so if there is a typo which causes an error PM me right away.

Thanks.

Sounds cool. I'm looking forward to seeing where this usergroup goes.

Remember not to rush and code everything properly.

It's simply a matter of changing arrays to include group 66. Only problems would be a typo.

What I really like about r00t is that it isn't application based. Only the fact that they can post threads in the currency exchange section worries me. Let's see how things will turn out, I hope for the good.

Wheelie - July 23, 2018, 2:31 pm

i might just buy it and give it a try.
Thanks for the update Omni

It's just nice we can start our own thread and have more opportunity to find an exchange

Of course, I believe ub3rs have scammed more than any other usergroups on this forum. I think it would be more safe to have additional requirements to post on the currency exchange section though, like a 6 months registration date or a minimum amount of B-ratings. I's just an opinion of me though.

Are we (R00T members) supposed to see people's warning level in the postbit or is that only for your own profile?

I checked all the perm issues I know about, and all is well. Thanks for taking care of them.

Ub3rs have probably scammed more because they are trusted more.

The majority of scammers on this forum, and the least trustworthy users, are regular users. If I gave $100 to an ub3r, and $100 to a regular user, I would be more likely to get it back from the ub3r.

Yeah I agree. Doesn't change the fact that ub3rs have scammed the most though. I hope r00t will not end up like ub3r.

That's impossible unless you've got a multi.

Is the warning level for users still in the postbit? I don't see it on any posts except my own.

I was going to ask this question myself.

Haven't been able to see anyone's warnings for quite some time now.

If I recall I rememeber reading that the feature has been disabled as it doesn't benefit anyone or that could be for the ban list but I think it got taken away

It's the internet. Doesnt matter what group you're in. What color, whatever other bullshit you want to label it. People will scam if they want to. Just simple fact of the matter. Glad the admin's are taking time to try and curve it, but regardless of what group that person is in, they will scam if they want to and will find a way.

Great to finally be in the group!

Byakuya Kuchiki - July 23, 2018, 8:48 pm

Ub3r has been kinda ruined although not all ub3r are scammers and I hope there is a way that will set aside good ub3rs from the bad ones

I've made a post about this since the upgrade and shave talked to Xeroic recently about it but Uber (or at least me) can not see the warnings in postbit and when you try to use the view warnings page it also only shows the points and no reason. He told me this is on the list but you guys had bigger fish to take care of first.

Sorry, forgot this wasn't working 100%. We'll get it fixed in a week or two. Should be simple enough. Could even be just a template issue.

Ub3rs cannot upgrade to r00t. Only Regular/L33t/Ep1c Members can.
