Thread: Afghan Migrant stabs 18-year old Norwegian boy to death

Apocryphon - July 23, 2018, 5:19 pm

An 18-year-old employee was stabbed to death while working in a Coop supermarket in Vadsø, Norway's VG reports.

The Norwegian teen, called Håvard Pedersen, was murdered by an 17-year-old Afghan migrant. Although co-workers were on-site, they did not see what happened in those seconds – except that a boy ran out of business with a “knife-like object”.

Do you think the immigrants have too much rights in Europe?

I don't see how rights are going to stop someone from attempting to or actually stabbing someone. Are immigrants supposed to be puppy dogged around and only given plastic utensils because of the possibility of them wanting to stab someone?

And I think every legal immigrant should have the same rights as a citizen not only in Europe but here in the USA and everywhere else in the world.

Do you think the immigrants have too much rights in Europe? for sure, all countries are treating them like they're sacred an all that just so they can tell they've helped immigrants.

most of those immigrants are very rude, have basic no to sympathy for other citizens, often sit, sleep, pee in public places in the middle of the day. they just want to get to the UK/germany and nothing will stop them.

they are just begging on the street (nothing wrong with that!), our country is offering them jobs but they dont want to take them since they "aren't paid enough", often times tease little kids with weird face expressions or gestures. at night they lurk around streets, often drunk or on some kind of drugs.

don't get me wrong i am all for helping others, especially immigrants who often times spend days if not weeks in some boats or at the back of a truck BUT they simply have 0 respect for the country they are in. not everyone but most of them, especially teenagers and young adults.

We tell them "go back home", they tell us "stay at your home". Who goes in their nation, offer them a job in Europe, offers them an house to live in Europe, an immigrant or your govern? Blame who now.

In Europe the majority of politicians and governments want to be politically correct. They don't want to be called racist or be accused of discriminating against any particular group, even though it is in some cases needed. In the UK it has come to the stage where the police won't release any information on the perpetrators in a case if their an immigrant or a different nationality. In Britain it is a democracy, the population vote for who they want in power. So if the average British family only have 2 or 3 kids max, and a Muslim family has 10+ then they are going to be able to vote who they want into power, despite them not being British. It also helps them conquer cities, as when anyone speaks against them they have the numbers to attack them which has been seen MANY times. I'd reccomend watching this video, its by a Muslim Imam who is an expert on the Islamic scriptures and he says himself that Islam should be banned within the UK.

Ban a religion? Or would it be easier to ban an individual?

From an American's point of view, I believe the Norwegians and the rest of Europe are too nice to immigrants.

Yes, they have a beautiful modern country and practice crime prevention instead of crime punishment, but immigrants are immigrants.

If I came from a third world country where people's hands get chopped off for looking at a woman for more than 3 seconds, and I ran away to Norway, I would feel like I'm in some kind of playground and I could do whatever the hell I want without getting in trouble.

You guys have middle easterners, we have Mexicans. (No offense to anybody.)

Let me make an example.

Let's say you have a tank full of friendly beautiful saltwater fish. They never fight, they all live peacefully as a community and do their part in maintaining the ecosystem. You have a friend that comes over to visit and he tells you he has some wild caught baby Amazon river Piranhas that need a new home. They only live well with their own kind, and can only survive by eating others. Are you going to let those Piranhas into your beautiful saltwater tank?

As an COOP employee this is quite unsettling.

Doesn't matter what the person is whether he's an immigrant or not. There's too much violence around nowadays. It's stupid how they classify a person by his background. What about the "white teenagers" that shoot up schools in America, they always come up with some type of excuse of them being mentally ill. Anyways, doesn't matter who he was, it just wrong in every way to kill someone.

Zyber Linux - July 26, 2018, 7:35 am

If someone is gonna kill somebody, they will kill somebody. Everybody says it's a disorder. If a person kills somebody it's because he/she has been through so much shit in their life that they don't care anymore. A human can only take so much. Don't get me wrong though there have been a few cases out there where the person did have a mental health issue, most murders happen because of the person has had a rough childhood or they just had enough with their life so they will take another person's life because they can't take their own. If I could guess the feeling of killing someone for a serial killer would probably be 1. A Rush 2. sexual pleasure 3. The gorey aspect of it. A normal person says I would never kill somebody in my life...but what if there was not a justice system? then would you? If somebody made you mad "and all people get like this by the way"...where you wanna hurt somebody, you wouldn't kill someone if there was no jail or anything? What holds a person back from doing damage to another is the justice system. If there was no justice system and somebody made me angry enough it's hard to say what I would do. I can control my anger because of the justice system. If there was no justice system, my enemies would not be alive today because I would still get to keep my freedom and commit murder. Only Without a justice system though. since we have one, I can always imagine :)

What's your point there with the OG story?

All i see there is a crime (or a murder in this case) committed. He killed another person? he go to court then jail like any other crime.

Rights don't have anything to do with this IMO. NOR the "Imigrant" part IMO.

trevor noah explained the double standard perfectly with the french baby who got saved by an african IMMIGRANT situation: If he went up and saved the baby, he's a French Hero. If he dropped the baby, he's an african immigrant.

I don't see the point of bringing immigrant issues into this.

Doesn't matter if they're migrants or immigrants. If a person wants to kill, they'd kill.
