not sure if this belongs here or not but...

i ordered this because i saw it and just couldn't resist. i ordered it and now im worrying about if i picked the wrong size. usually when i see something from china the sizing is medium to xx large. this hoodie goes all the way from xs to xxl so im confused and just wanna make sure i got the right size. the only reason im worried so much is because i really shouldn't be spending more money on clothes and i just did now im worried i picked the wrong size

i have no idea what my measurements are or what the standard measurements are it would really help a lot tho if i did i just cant figure it out looking at charts. i ordered size XL because im a size USA medium. im just curious because i cant imagine there realistically being a chinese size XS i mean a chinese M is already like a usa size xs so a chinese xs seems like it would be made for a midget for a 10 year old asian kid or something.

really any help would be super appreciated ty

XL will be lengthwise 71cm according to the chart, which is like a normal US medium, so you're good.

why tho?

henry - July 24, 2018, 11:04 am

Just get a measuring tape and measure yourself lol funtela - July 24, 2018, 12:03 pm

That thing is gonna be shit quality.

i dont wear clothes to look rich im not insecure i just like jordan and supreme because its the only brands i know off the top of my head. i could have 100k in the bank and i still wouldn't care if my stuff was fake as long as it doesn't look like shit

i dont need to act rich to get laid im good looking and a genuinely good person. i'd rather have like 400 supreme shirts that look exactly the same for the price of one and i could literally afford ANY piece of clothing you have on i just choose not to. i save my money
