Thread: [\[HOT\] \$1 FREE SHIPPING MYBLU VAPE STARTER KIT](#)

Cig?r - July 24, 2018, 1:39 am

Hello All,

Just thought I'd share with you guys a pretty good deal on a MyBlu vape starter kit. I have ordered 4 already to family's houses. It is a reputable website and I got mine in the mail about 4 days later. It is $1 for the kit (Device, Charger, and 1 Nicotine Pod.) Free shipping from Las Vegas.

It is 1 per house. If anybody finds a way to abuse this system and order more to 1 house, please share!

Enjoy!

Really wanting to purchase a few of these however I hesitant due to the fact that I live in Australia.

Yes they do international shipping but I feel like it will be held in customs and returned because of Australia's laws right?

I already made this thread almost a month ago.

Meh, I'd say $1 is worth the risk. Australia is strict but I'm not sure they'd care so much about nicotine.

They are alright. Basically the BLU version of a JUUL. The pods that they come with leak often and don't last a long time but for only $1, who cares.

Refill pods in stores are extremely expensive. ($18 for 2 pods in Los Angeles.) Each pod lasts about a day if you are a pack a day smoker.

Same price as cigarettes.

I only heard about it here yet never saw them actually, We got something kinda similar but its like a special cigs that you put into a little device like this and its actually only steam. (i might be wrong about it haha) But thats not so popular, people are more tended to go with a vape loll and the special cigs are sold as the same as a cigs pack and around the same price too...The cigs are a little smaller than a real cigarettes.

Anyone find a way to order more then 1 to the same house?

Not sure yet. I've tried using different names, different IP addresses, different credit cards, adding Unit B at the end of my property, etc. They were all cancelled and labelled as "fradulent."

They have a pretty good anti-abuse algorithm. I did manage to order two to my grandmother's house. Can't get it to work at any other addresses or friends houses.

I refill mine and rewick, it's not difficult, just look it up on youtube. I use Vape Wild flavors.
