METHOD IS A SCAM!!!

Method didnt work out as promised.

- Not replying to PM's.

- Not refunding.

Method is about selling ... giftcards on ...com.

And exchange them for AGC.

This method he provided failed 3 times in a row.

Also have contact with 2nd buyer of this method.

O.P. Claims it works. - it doesnt.

O.P. Claimed it works worldwide - it doesnt(if it even worked, you need a U.S.A. Bank sccount)

O.P. Claimed that with USA Creditcard it works.. well i tried that. It failed!

Contacted Tech he said he was t refunding within 24H because he was going to look for solution.

Atm Tech dissapeared for me. From discord. #ignored

Boss - July 27, 2018, 7:24 pm

Same thing happened for me.

When I was discussing about the method prior to buying with Tech, he stated that the method works worldwide.

We made a deal 200$ first and then 100$ more when the method is proven to be working.

I sent him the money [first 200$], he delivered with his method and when I tried to register on a site that Tech told me to exchange on, the site asked for a CC info. Just to be clear, prior to purchasing Tech also stated that you can use FAKE INFO on the site. I tried to enter something random, and the site declined.

Tried a few CC and none of them worked as well.

When I asked Tech what seems to be the problem with the site, he said that he used VCC made through xy.com which is available for US RESIDENTS ONLY [you need US info and bank account, only real info can be used]!!!

At that point I could've asked for a refund, but I went out of the ways to get myself a VCC from that site even tho I'm from Europe and the method still didn't work. Exchange got rejected from the site.

Tried 2 times, 2 different accounts, 2 different cards from the site that OP said is working, VPN, literally everything that was in my power and the method IS NOT WORKING.

Messaged him for a refund OR ANOTHER WORKING METHOD.

He then sent me a link of an online shop, told me to buy some points that could be exchanged for train rides and told me to sell it on FB groups literally. Which by all means isn't a method or any shit. I told him that he should ask me if I'm into reselling stuff and then present it to me, not just write some shit out of the blue and consider it as he doesn't have to give a refund. And his 'other method' isn't a method he basically told me go buy something and resell it lol. No sources, no guides, nothing. Just a link to an online shop.

When I stated all of that to him, he just blocked me on Discord.

but how does it help by getting your money back? HF should implement some sort of escrow account to protect the buyer. for example, buyer only released the funds to seller if they get the product/service in working condition.

Who's going to pay for such a service?

HF don't get involved, it's up to the users. They can of course use a middleman if both parties agree.

Good luck OP.
