Interesting that this video has a long segment viewing the hackers HF profile and posts from 2011.

HF part starts from like 4 mins in.

HF has been getting a few features in crumbs videos. There was another one were it was about selling gold/buying gold in bulk and it pictures of some recent threads on here.

The dev sent a request with credentials to his API.

Withpkeasure - August 23, 2018, 9:21 am

WOW that simple. So regular people have access to dev ?

I love this youtuber I'm actually watching a different video of his right now. I think he did a good job of reporting it and also it was awesome to see HF in the video lol it brought back so many memories ? ?

I wonder, was he a previous reader or did he end up here through google? He seems to do his research so either way wouldn't be surprising. I personally like the fact that he doesn't shit on us for being "muh evul haxurrrs"
