Thread: Fortnite V-Bucks Service \(Xbox/PC/Xbox/Mobile/Etc\) | Cheapest on HF | \$35 PER 13.5k

Beaks - August 4, 2018, 12:05 am

Fortnite V-Bucks Service

13,500 V-Bucks for $35
27,000 V-Bucks for $70

Save the World:
$15 - Basic STW Package (Lowest Tier)
$40 - Ultimate STW Package (Highest Tier)

I am doing this using the Argentina method for those that don't know how to do it themselves.

If your account has ever been linked and logged in on PS4 I am unable to do this with your account. Your account will not be risked to be banned as this has been done by many people over the last few months with zero bans.

Payment via PayPal (Friends/Family) for users I deem trustworthy and Ethereum for all others.

An account I recently added V-Bucks to:

It is definitely still working as I personally know some people who are still able to do it. However for a large portion of us it is currently having issues because of microsoft. I will be trying a few things to get it to work, but I really do think it just is Microsofts server.

This method is PATCHED.

There is a current ban wave in effect, if you've purchased from him, you're at risk of a 14 day suspension.

I would heavily advise to steer clear of this, as if you do it now, you are highly likely to be banned for 14 days.

I would also suggest unlinking your Epic account from your xbox account and use an alt if you do happen to get banned.

Sorry for the threadshit.

There wouldn't be, it wasn't a glitch or an exploit.

It was just buying something on the Argentina Xbox store.

Don't spew your propaganda about a "ban-wave". This method has been out for over a year and gain popularity now. Why would someone get banned for simply buying on a server that was accessed through a VPN?
