Tad old now, but not posted here. Testing out working with scanner and stuff, and doing custom lettering in bending surrounded by decoration for the first time. What I learned from this I transferred to a different project that turned out more successful. Will post that too soon.

Oh I remember seeing you on V3rmillion, and uh, Leakforums? I think it was.

You got some great work, big fan of the project you posted here now, my favourite of yours is the seaside one, with the whale and all.

You know your shit man, this looks amazing.

Congratulations.

This is actually really cool.

You are talented my good sir ?

Ecstatic to see a well-versed and talented designer such as yourself on Hack Forums.

Amazing project you have here.

Let me know if you're ever selling Signatures. Your attention to detail is amazing.

Virtus_Graphics - August 9, 2018, 4:04 am

Thanks everyone :)

It is likely, I'm lots other places too :) I re-created Seaside long ago, dubbed "Tales of the Sea". It's basically same drawing, just improved. I may just do a third one that will be another improvement! Will add to my list of things to post here.

I am selling typographic and decorative pieces like these. They are a lot of work though, so price starts at $50, so you're really going to want one if you wish to get one.

nice work bro good job !! i like it

Rivalry - August 9, 2018, 6:56 am

Great project with clear direction and planning. That's a real rarity round here - thanks for contributing and hopefully I see you around more!

n0XZe - August 11, 2018, 3:00 am

That is some beautiful work man! i'd love to have your service right now, but seems you're worth a lot of money with that skill

This is so different from the usual rate my graphic threads.

You've went into great detail with your workflow, and your ideas.

I love the fact that you even posted your sketches.

Thechief must be very pleased with the outcome.

Good job.
