I haven't been back long enough to see the contracts, but anyways.

Description:

User said he'd sell me 100 Hotmail accounts, all PVA, no issues, for 30$ BTC.

I purchased the 100 accounts and started logging into them from not only my locale IP, but his general area as well, just to avoid potential account suspensions.

I always expect the worst when it comes to something as specific as purchased e-mail accounts, but I expect resolution in the event they don't work.

Every account has gotten either a temp suspension, OR is asking for the phone number attached for verification, and he will not reply to assist me in any way.

how unfortunate, he mentioned contract 1x in the conversation, but I was genuinely confused as I've been offsite for some time.

w/e I guess i'm out $30.
