Thread: Account closed without notification

MrArchiveTemp - August 14, 2018, 10:01 am

Hi guys,

I am wondering if one of the Admins, more notably Omni himself, could possibly shed some light as to why my account MrArchive was closed at random without any sort of notification.

I can see I have 2 extra Alerts since my account has been closed which might give me some more information, but due to the closure, I am unable to access them, unfortunately.

If Omni or another admin could reach out to the email registered on my account, it would be greatly appreciated.

I will recommend using the contact form instead of the thread.

You never know what mood Omni is in

I agree the contact form would be the best option, however, I submitted a request a few days ago and have yet to see a response.

Thanks for the help though.

Omni is a very busy person.

He'll read it and get back to you or a staff member will ?

We associated you with a previously banned account.

Thanks for taking the time to get back to me regarding this Omni, would you be able to email me privately to discuss this? I'm not aware of any accounts other than this which I have been using.
