Show me proof if I scam anyone otherwise he is scammer.

If you're legit trying to find an exchanger then why are you only targetting new members with no marketplace history (so they should go first) instead of trusted exchangers that have hundreds and if not, thousands of legit exchanges? Maybe because they'll require you to go first and you won't be able to scam them?

Your PM also looks real similar to this one: <https://hackforums.net/showthread.php?tid=5868399>

And not to mention that he doesn't said anything about using a middleman

If he was legit he would've no problems using one

It is true

This guy also send me a PM to exchange for $500.

I immediatly though this is a scam method.

This guy also messaged me with proof of "BTC" being a cropped picture with the date being 6 months ago.

DWC. Obviously a desperate scammer.

Just report him to staff or omni. He will be banned for PM spam and contracts abuse

Sent me the same PM too.

Sketchy for numerous reasons not to mention breaking the spam rule.
