Thread: [Lure people out of the safe-zone glitch \[Free\]](#)

Timo - August 15, 2018, 2:39 am

Since a user on here is trying to sell a public glitch, by bullshitting that he made 5b from it without actual proof, here is how it works, FOR FREE.

Can the person with the book be attacked by someone outside of the safe zone? I'd assume yes?

Good looking OP, thanks for this! ;)

Because the person is technically standing outside the safe zone, correct? The book is just delaying the animation of them moving there, but the server still processes it as if they are indeed outside of the safe zone?

Yeah, you are outside the safe zone. But it doesn't really matter since the account doing the bug is normally a low level, so when baiting people for the trade even if people attack it...you won't lose anything.

It's a bug anyways and people can & have been banned for it, so just a FYI if you thinking bout doing it. Also enough people as it...Just an all out "rag" war lately between the active community of pvp lurers territory people think they are entitled too. It's some fuckin bullshit.

Why do you say that? Did it directly affect you in any way? If not, I don't understand why the regular players even care? Just a dick thing to say bro. Even after the first way was patched Tyler still found another way. Only a matter of time before someone finds a new stall.

This way probably the best lure on runescape...ever. 10-20b/monthly it was mad. It's just upsetting to see it go away so randomly since it was around for a little while without jagex caring for it.

Bad thing to say? Dick move?

It was a exploit that wasn't intended, and cost innocent players billions of GP.

How am I the one pulling a Dick move when you use a exploit to gain gp from other players in a unfair and illegal way.

It's whatever you're right (it's not good to do it to others, but it's still all fun n games between the people I do it with). I was just really annoyed yesterday when it happened since I had many people lined up I was gettin in a bit.

How is it sad luring in 2018? It's nostalgia and if you have good friends it's always fun to mess around in VC while seeing if you get anyone. Overall the people I involve myself with are a good bunch and it's always an uplifting environment. Can't say this for all lurers since many of them are rather toxic (and tbh I get toxic myself as well at times)...But can you explain what you mean by that? "extremely sad"? Just curious as to how regular players mindset it?

We are talking about the victims, the people who lose billions of gp because other people feel the need to abuse a bug to gain hard earned gp from players who put hours upon hours in the game to earn that gp.

One could argue that botting takes the chances away from people earning more money because bots inflate the price of materials (I noticed that you had a botting guide). Those who put hours and hours of work only to make very little money since bot farmers can do whatever skill in bulk & sell those items causing them to drop in value.

Those people too can be considered victims. It's only a game nothing serious just call them marks. Meh it's whatever we can end this conversation I prefer not to get into an argument over something as silly as this.

Cheers ?

This is gonna be bad logic...Even if you bot or not you make no difference. There are many others who will bot in your place. Same goes for luring. If I don't lure...there are other lurers. Sure it's bad logic...but people will always fall victim to certain lures so might as well be me luring that someone else?

With that logic you might as well rob and kill people IRL.

(Aug 26, 2018 11:28 PM)Timo Wrote: [\[CITE\]](#) With that logic you might as well rob and kill people IRL. Yeah I said it's kinda bad logic lol but it's only a game. In game people are getting lured regardless so it might as well be me making that money rather than another lurer.

Here's a mini example from a while back. There was this one dude who had ~110m bank that I was going to lure. Instead I'm like lemme just be friends with him a bit he seems pretty fun to talk too and I'll lure him later. Literally the NEXT day he got lured and I was pissed. So other lurers got him rather than me. It's just annoying knowing he was mine but I didn't take the opportunity to get him right away so someone else got him.

New players and people buy gold who come into the game without much experience are gonna get lured. (Yo and even the most of experienced of players got lured by the book that was patched. The stall was OP bro, honestly think best lure that's been out in years).

red - August 28, 2018, 11:51 pm

Again, imagine luring in 2018. Go do something useful instead of luring and probably making 500k/year. Before you talk about how "IVE LURED BILLS BRO XD" lets seem some proof of lures you've done. If you don't have any videos, then shut the hell up.

I already said in my previous post that it's wrong, but it's the reality of RuneScape. Luring people isn't good, but it's only a game. Also a good way to improve your social engineering skills that can help you IRL as well like in the work field so other benefits as well.

I've been lured back in the day like 2013 ish times so I know how it feels. I worked 3 years only in f2p and had bills from my own work only for someone to take it away, I was in rank in r quark (rare items pc cc - I would flip lowers n phats). Been on both sides of it I guess so it's not too bad. People can move on. I was super super sad for a while after I got lured (like super long man...I quit the game for years). Then turning into the lurer myself really helps to see the other side of it. It's hard to explain idk man, you just gatta have an open mind. We can agree to disagree.

You're retarded. Seriously retarded. What are you doing to make 500k a year? Luring is just a part time thing not a fucking full time job. Some increasers I know have made ~50k thus far into the year, and some lures have made similar amounts. I lure on and off and been about 15k since I don't have as much time as others. I know some other lurers who've made that what I made thus far in a month.

Again, you are seriously a moron. 500k a year, Imfao?!?!?! No lurer is making that much money. Not even regular 9 to 5's make that much unless you're running your own successful business. Decent jobs are like 65-150k/year I'd say. Go do some research before you're pulling numbers out of your ass.

I have clips n screenshots of my lures - but read the thread title buddy. This isn't "post your lures" thread. I simply posted since this was relating to a lure I do. Why did you post? To insult me and call me a sad little man? And an extremely sad kid? I looking for your approval, I couldn't care less of what you think of me "sad little man"? Why are you so upset? Still never answered any of my questions when I quoted you before. I can't be asked to waste time with you. Just cheers bro, carry on with your day and try to be more positive.

I was just posting to have a normal conversation with Timo since I do like to hear other people's point of view. If you want to have better posting quality rather than throwing insults, posting your thoughts would be interesting to see as well. Have you been lured in the past? How has it affected you? etc...

I didn't mean $500,000/year I meant 500,000gp/year you fucking moron. Learn to read and make sense of what you are reading. If I were to put $500k/year then that would have meant I was meaning real-life cash. Just use your head man, holy shit. I can see why you have to lure to do anything. Next, lets see some of the screenshots of your lures. Blur out whatever you want and show actual proof that they are yours and not just some bullshit you pulled off Google. I didn't realize you were saying gold. 500k/year? I wasn't thinking you would be that dumb to think luring makes that little of money? Sarcasm? What? I dunno...It just seemed so bogus? "replying to 20 people calling you out for being a retard". Not even close to 20 people replied to this thread. When I was talking with Timo he is raising decent points...you are just here to spew bullshit and insult others. I looked at your other threads and you constantly do this. In the ewhoring section especially you're always trying to call people out that they are lying. I have no reason to show you proof as I don't brag about my lures but this thread was on that topic and it was a shame seeing such a nice lure get patched. But I will show you outta respect. So please stop being a dick and I'll stop responding the way I do. Have an open mind.

Either way, HMU on discord if you do want to see some screenshots/videos I already PM'ed (I don't have to do this - but I am doing this out of my own kindness showing some loots, also I would like to talk to you a bit on vc and hear why you are so angry w/me).

And please buddy, remember this isn't about flexxing. This thread was just about the lure getting patched - not how much money people have made luring.

[illegible]

1. I never "called anyone out in the e-whore section". You are actually so stupid man it's insane. I questioned whether that guy actually made $20,000 from e-Whoring because his previous posts all the way till his account was registered didn't talk about really anything about money or making money. We both came to a conclusion in that same exact thread too.

2. "I wasn't thinking you would be that dumb to think luring makes that little of money?" Still waiting to see a lick of proof of the money you've made luring. I haven't seen people make bills from luring since fucking 2011.

3. "When I was talking with Timo he is raising decent points" No. He was calling you a dick, just like I am. He also pointed out that you and other lurers are possibly taking hard-earned money from people. I brought up that not only are you stealing the money from people in-game, but you are also ruining the community and trust within the game. Then you try to defend those statements by me and Timo by saying "It's just a game, it doesn't matter," when in reality money in RuneScape DOES matter seeing as there are countless gold-trading websites for exchanging in-game cash for real-life money. Denying that it doesn't matter is probably the stupidest thing I've heard in quite a while.

4. "you are just here to spew bullshit and insult others" again.. no. I'm here to call you a fucking retard for trying to lure in 2018. That's not an insult at all, that's me being real. If you are luring in the year 2018 you are either a sweaty fucking cunt or you literally have nothing better to do with your life.

5. "I would like to talk to you a bit on vc and hear why you are so angry w/me" Like I said in PM's, there's no reason to discuss anything with you. You negative rep anyone that disagrees with what you do/think. The conversation should have ended then and there. Instead, you -3 and then PM me probably so that you can get on my good side to earn a positive rep. To be completely honest, I don't even care if you've made anything off luring. I'm just pointing out that doing it is scummy as fuck because again.. it makes people distrust people, makes them skeptical, makes them lose hours and hours and hours of progress/work, and wastes their time.

6. "500k/year? I wasn't thinking you would be that dumb to think luring makes that little of money" There are tons of people that still lure for whatever reason, and 99% of them suck fucking ass at it and watch a 10 minute YouTube video and then go and try it. I could make more money killing green dragons for an hour than you could looking for a victim for an hour. Because not only do you have to find someone actually stupid enough/not experienced enough to even fall for the beginning of a lure, but then you'd have to build up trust over a couple days and then still gamble whether or not they'll go through with bringing their items somewhere not safe. It's all around just a stupid way to make money and does nothing good for anyone but the lurer.

On phone so can't reply super well

1. Wild bro.
2. Still waiting to see pic proof hmu on discord boi already pmed u
3. Timo is being a dick without throwing insult
4. Im sweaty since I lure wut. Also since 2011 you haven't seen people making bills? U are really out of it bro :/ it hurts how ignorant you are. If ur interested in luring do some research since ppl wouldn't be luring if it doesn't make good money kek
5. I negged you a few days ago m8 and PMed you today since u said u wanted some proof. So ur logic doesn't make sense. im trying to get on ur good side so you +rep me???? Biggest lol of my life seriously u of all ppl shouldn't think that way ur a 2013 member boiiii we both know rep after the reset holds absolutely ZERO value.
6. If ur building trust over a couple days for a lure under 200m not worth. Can get trust in ~20 minutes of talking. Comes with ease the more you interact with people. I'd rather not share my script, but if you know people who targeting lower amounts for a few days they are bad. And yes there is many bad lurers. Even the bigger 1b+ lures it's done in a day or two tops to move on to the next. Similar script repeating for others.

Also Chill out fam

@silent uprising, having such a mindset doesn't limit to only a game.

It's the way a person thinks.

"If I won't do it somebody else will" is exactly the mindset that we don't need in the world.

You trying to convince me to have an open mind about something semi criminal also just looks you are trying to convince yourself that what you are doing isn't wrong.

RSGP has a market value, so I see using exploits and bugs to get the RSGP of a player in a illegitimate way as stealing.

It's the way a person thinks.

Nah I recognize it's wrong. And I know how terrible it feels to be on the end of the person getting scammed. Maybe you're right that I am trying to convince myself it's not wrong. When I first started luring the money was to good to even give a fuck about the people. But I guess after being in the game for a while you start to think about the people more. It's so easy to tell if someone is "lureable" just by the way they talk.

But nah, it's not stealing. Stealing is like doing a transaction in the market place and scamming the person. I consider that extremely wrong and I have no respect for anyone who ever does that. Luring is an art (the way I see it), and it's not for everyone. For some morals get in the way, and for others it's just not in them. They are just so bad and arn't like a "people" person - being empathetic/humorous/showing trust and relating to your victim to get them comfortable etc...Not everyone can pull it off. Some people are just to direct. Black n white were they are bad at it.

I made this thread since I was curious on people's thoughts - <https://hackforums.net/showthread.php?tid=5810447> - It's a few months old but decent.

Also to the other nigga saying who lures in 2018...lmfao. I been involved for a while n there's people who post up on it every now n then. I usually reply to em.

Good old times fuck. I was reading through some old luring threads and it's when I said I quit my job at McDonalds to lure. Thread here - <https://hackforums.net/showthread.php?tid=5724749>

More luring threads I post on <https://hackforums.net/showthread.php?tid=5734769>
<https://hackforums.net/showthread.php?tid=5673288>
<https://hackforums.net/showthread.php?tid=5785216&>;

So saying luring isn't a thing, those threads are about a year old, but people always be luring bro. So don't be saying i'm a sweaty fat sad cunt since i'm luring in 2018. not you timo...the other dude forgot his name and im at the reply screen rn cba to see his name but starts with an E.

Reading back at this old thread. Ahhh this is funny as hell. I was such a noob :) so much as changed since then damn.

Also animations stalls still work even after they patched it again few days ago. There will always be a new stall.

Damn. I was a bit cringy back in the day.

So who here has been lured and is salty about it ;)?
