Thread: Bytes History

Carl Elias - August 16, 2018, 9:43 pm

Just a quick suggestion, is it possible to separate/show some how which bytes are sent and which are received more clearly? Like right now the Slots Says "Slot Winner", but for the lottery it says "3 Tickets" etc.

There isn't a clear distinction between which were sent and which were received. Not sure how it would be able to be shown easily though. I really just am curious because it could help show how much you have got/spent.

Thoughts?

Spoiler (Click to View)As a side note, it would be awesome to have a way to see how much I have spent on the slots game

If it says "[Lotto] Ticket Bot" that means you purchased tickets. Help Bot clearly did not purchase the tickets. If it says "Slot Winner" you clearly won the slots, not Help Bot. What further clarification is needed?

Yeah I know you can deduct that but it would be kind of nice to have just like another column to show clearly if it was "Spent/Recieced" kind of like how it does when you donate. That way it could be filtered kind of like how reps are to show only the sent or only received.

Mainly i was thinking of a more clear way so you can see how much you spent and compare to how much you have received etc. I mean it isn't needed entirely. I'll close the thread just wanted to see what others thought.

Slots ONLY appears in history when you win. It is not logged every time you spin the wheel in the Bytes history.

As for the lottery... it is clearly designated whether you are: purchasing tickets, winning the lottery, or are the lottery owner.

SLOTS Winner -> This means you have won a slots spin.

[LOTTO] Owner -> This means you are collecting the owner's cut.

[LOTTO] Winner -> This means you have won the lottery.

[LOTTO] Ticket Bot -> This means you purchased tickets.
