Flick me a message with the account details. I'll provide another account free of charge and will check it before logging in. ?

That's impressive. So they're not cracked, they're safe accs?

They are all cracked accounts. I include a guide entirely free to secure the account 100% and not allow for them to pull the account back even if they have a verified email.

You messaged me about 2 minutes after I went online. Which would you like, a refund or a replacement account which I'll ensure works before giving it to you?

Did you not read the reply a few comments above, saying they are cracked? Would help if you were your glasses.

Secondly, only 1 user has had a login problem out of about 11 users, so "all" is "one".

Edit: Lol, just read your reputation. Explains everything.

Pm me the name that appears on your PayPal so I can see that you really did buy a $20 account, and then I'll replace it for free.

All $20 accounts were checked before being added, so it is odd it is not working for you.
