Thread: Product Dispute Scammed by Xeenon uid=3308493 for \$200 PP

Sollux - August 17, 2018, 10:38 am

Username: Xeenon

UID: 3308493

Profile: <https://hackforums.net/member.php?action=profile&uid=3308493>

He pm'd me about a post about me looking for 200$ worth of BTC.

I accepted to go first, he said he'd do it 1:1.

I trusted him because I didn't do my research, it's my own fault yes but it sucks that he keeps getting away with this. He said he'd do a contract on hf so I just said, didn't bother checking.

After being scammed I saw that he has multiple scam reports and that he's been changing user names to circumvent that.

I can provide PM's of him proving his discord account, and a full log of our messages.

Guessing staff can't do anything about it?

Unfortunately this is invalid without you using a contract. Thank you for letting everyone know though!

Next time search UID. That guy has like 10 scam reports ! Very sorry for your loss !

Omni has banned a few people that have scammed while using the Contracts system; he may get involved here.

Unfortunate to see this, but at least you're self-aware and know how to avoid this next time.

Alright good! Please include the contract link!

He might get banned as there was a contract.

SEARCH UIDs PEOPLE

At least you put your BTC address in the contract, can see it's received nothing. Hopefully this dickhead gets banned.
