Thread: FREE product/service promotion | New listing website needs content | Read description

BusinessInflation - August 19, 2018, 7:10 am

New product/service listing website is looking for content.

The website offers promotion for products and services by small and big brands/businesses, but as it is new, it is looking for a bunch of services and products to fill out the current content database, to make the site seem more active.

The current monthly amount of visitors is right around 200.000 people.

It is 100% free, anyone is welcome as long as the requirements below are met.

Requirements:

- Product/service can't be illegal.
- Product/service can't include adult content (gambling and betting etc. Is allowed, just not erotics).
- Image/graphic for the listing has to be a 1 to 1 size in pixels, meaning the width and height has to be the same, like 150 by 150 pixels etc.

To be considered contact me by PM with the following information:

- Image/graphic for the listing.
- Link for the product/service (this is for me to see and it will also be the link people will be forwarded to when clicking your listing).
- Price for the product/service you offer.
- The title you would like the listing to have.

The website on which the listings will be posted, will stay unknown for privacy reasons for now, however this is a great opportunity for some free advertisement. The listings will stay on the site forever and a significant marketing strategy is set in place to promote the site, which means a potential massive flow of traffic is to be put onto it.

Why would you keep the website a secret, especially if it already has 200k traffic?
