Hi everyone.

Just joined your community because i have a huge problem with harassment.

My wife and i have been harass since now 2 years (july 2016) on FB Messenger.

This person know many private elements : our names, job locations, where we drink coffee before going at work, lot or informations about my wife's mother (who died 3 years ago)... lots of things that cant be find on internet...

We think this person follow us in real life to know so much about us.

This person create fb messenger accounts to tell us he loves my wifes shapes (ill stay polite and respectful), and he wants to join her to make love... everytime we block the account, this person create a new one.

We have been to police to complain "against X" but they told us they cant do anything.

All we want is to know the name of this person to complain against someone and not against X.

I thought about à netstat to get the ip and approximately locate this person. Maybe / probably someone we know (?).

Anyway, if you have advices to solve this problem, feel free to reply.
If im not in the right location on the boards just tell me please.
