Thread: SD Wants To Send Money For Planet Ticket?

phenom100 - August 23, 2018, 12:13 pm

Hey guys i've been doing ewhoring with Snapchat and recently been going for sugar daddies as well.

This one guy is super about it, has sent 2 of my separate ewhores money already without asking for any verification. Now it sounds like he's serious about wanting to send me money to buy a plane ticket to go see him lol ($200-300 USD)

Should I just accept the money and then somehow stop talking to him? Or is there some way to accept it but keep milking him without actually going there obviously?

Can you pm me bro? I can give you some advice but I'd also like to ask you a few questions.

lol easy , say that you're in the last year of university or something that needs you an year to wait and if he would have been asking for that at the begin of summer you would have come without any problem and if its okay you may have some time in the winter break tho you can't promise anything milk him for an year then ask for the ticket money and block him B-)

You could accept the money and still message him. Try double dipping him tell him you can buy the plane ticket yourself with the money he gave u and tell that on the day of depature, you missed your flight due to some issues and for the next flight ticket he book for you tell that you are busy with your project on studies. So that makes a chat convo from then on and extend like thattt...

Accept the money and tell him that you had to pay bills/rent because they'd kick you out of your place .Ask him to wait for you to save up for a flight, make it seem impossible for you to save up so he can send you more .

I can vouch for my brother.

He knows what he is doing. Cheers.
