Thread: azorult 3.2 vs neutrino botnet 5.4

confusp5454 - August 24, 2018, 8:06 am

PLEASE HELP

which is better botnet to invest into ?

azorult 3.2 vs neutrino botnet 5.4

and smoke loader

i need function of STEALER

|emp| - August 24, 2018, 8:11 am

these botnets have completly different functionality, anyways i would not recommend any of them. I used both in last year and i noticed a lot of bugs, maybe its fixed in newest versions but still overpriced imho.

I was talking about azorult and neutrino.

Smoke has not been online on jabber since 1 month.

Tiny nuke is open source. I guess smoke died or smth.
Idk about azoroult

1:Smoke author is Online on jabber and Updates his Loader (Last one from March/april)
2: Neutrino Author Online and Updates his botnet (last 5.4 updated in august)

if you need test them u can easy found older version for free on markets Smoke is leaked (but only loader function ON) aSLO i posted FREE betaBot on HF so u can test for fun ;) and free of charge

Azorult is dead and vulnerable.

If you have cheap budget then go for Loki instead of Azorult. I find Loki to be more stable and works with latest OS & browser.

If you have no issue with budget, then there are premium options: Raccon, HVNC net, Smoke Loader (with all modules) etc...
