So is it possible to get access to my skype that was hacked 6 days ago? the hacker changed the password and the recovery email, it is a 10+ year old account and apparently I cannot remember the security questions or he was also able to change them.

he sent me an disguised executable which like an idiot I opened, I know better was just to lazy to fire up vm.

That executable I can see dycrypted and made a txt file of all pass's stored on my pc then sent them to him, its quit an efficient little 200kb script he made , anyways I need back in my account if someone can help,thanks

Half of what he said is impossible in a lot of cases. Lets get some reviews either with proof of good service or the bad (most likely).
