Thread: Math problem?

JAS - August 29, 2018, 11:54 am

Hello, Can someone help me find the formula for this?

So lets say when someone clicks something the 'Publisher' gets paid $0.30 , But then we want to reward the person who clicked it with points. We want to reward them with 100 points per $1.00 they make the Publisher. What would the formula be for that?

Thanks!

click=0,3*100=30

So thirty points a click.

how is this even a question?

I re-read this thread like 10 times because I thought that I must've overlooked something.
