Thread: Wireless Security Camera System

FCC - September 2, 2018, 8:11 pm

Does anyone know of a good wireless security camera system that will record at 1080p upon motion detection? There have been quite a few thefts and damages to property in my area that needs to stop. I'm not looking to spend a fortune on this system but I'm willing to put a little money into it if needed. I need cameras that are capable of reaching the receiver up to 50ft. I need these cameras to be outdoor proof have night vision and for them to be completely wireless. I would prefer recording to happen about 30 seconds before motion detection and until motion is no longer detected. Cloud services are not a requirement but email or mobile notifications are. Thank for in advance if anyone has a solution for me.

I use Nest cameras, have a few of them outside my place because my neighbor is a fucking lunatic, really nice cameras.
