Thread: What are your views on double dipping?

joys - September 6, 2018, 4:53 am

I would like to know people's views on this. It's something that I am personally against. I feel like ewhoring with some ethics will get you way further.

Honest up-selling is cool though.

Double dipping is easy if you know how to do it correctly.

i used to double dip sometimes but its not really worth it in the end. its a lot of lying and dishonesty and you can just find more stuff to the sell person instead of double dipping them usually works yea, definitely a contradaction. I would atleast want to customer to be satisfied with what they bought, rather than feel cheated you're already lying to them into making them think you're a girl tbh i dont see double dipping bad bc ewhoring is already immoral but idc lol

It is better to try to have returning clients, you will make more.

ngl I dont like it, I want my customers to be satisfied all the time. Less stress for me and happy clients usually come back :)
