There needs to be a HUGE warning or removal of contracts, as the only reason the contracts is added is so Omni can give the feds the info when they come asking for it.

This is an incredibly dumb take as these contracts are not escrow, how do they protect either the buyer or the seller? All it does is keep evidence against the people if their conduct is not legal, which in this forum most conduct is not legal. People forget about carderprofit?

What evidence does it keep against people that wouldn't be kept in the forum anyway through things like PMs

This is an invalid deal dispute as no contract was added to the OP. Thread closed.
