your prices are too high for it to be worth the effort. my car doesn't take 20 gallons, i fill up like 10 or 11 gallons.

i've seen people sell 5 codes worth $0.30 for $2.50 i'll just wait thanks for your time!

.25 or more off codeLogically still wouldn't make any sense.

For example: Gas in my area is $2.72 and up, my tank holds around 12-13 max. It costs me around $30-$40 fillup from empty.

A .25 code isn't gonna knock off much, and I'd been wasting .50 cent - or whatever other prices you have.

Yes, it's still savings but I think he's look for major $$ reduce.

If you don't wanna bring a gas container for your lawnmower or whatever and get full savings. Every person different but at .50 cents for .35 code when have them in stock would save about $4 for 13 gallon. Some savings better then none but to each their own.
