Thread

<https://hackforums.net/showthread.php?tid=5868029&highlight=private+money+making>

Description

Was only going to post about Vyrez, but since hes banned right now I'll just post this warning for all new members. Do not buy any products from the members mentioned. Since he has a few hoes that work for him, i'll just involve them too.

Fade & Riyu were selling the same "private money making method" for Vyrez. No support from any of them or Vyrez... Vyrez kicks out anyone who wants a refund or for any retarded reason he wants.

If you go to the premium sellers section, you can see trappy is selling the same product Vyrez has been scamming people with for a while (The Make $500 a day bla bla bla, which is also a leaked ebook).

All Vyrez does is pay people to drop posts in his threads (or his products which his friends create a thread for) in order to look like real vouches.

Anyways, onto my main point with proof. I bought Vyrez's method when fade was selling it for him... again, there was no support from fade like promised, if you ask questions they'll just ignore you, only help I got was from actual members in the group. But now I can't even talk to the members in the group because I'm muted, essentially taking away the only resource that was included with the purchase. Why? All because I didn't bump a thread for Vyrez. Take a look.

Proof

Him asking for the bump

<https://ibb.co/hjWuc9>

Then he tries to edit and act retarded (must not be too hard)

<https://ibb.co/gHz2VU>

Mutes me and I ask why.. cause i didn't bump his thread. For how long? permanently.

<https://ibb.co/cKLnX9>

<https://ibb.co/n0abqU>

<https://ibb.co/ifK2VU>

<https://ibb.co/iDo7x9>

Another one from a few months ago when he asked me to bump

<https://ibb.co/nDXZc9>

Didn't feel like making this thread, mostly cause I was lazy. But I've asked him several times for the past week to unmute me and he just keeps bullshitting.

Moral of the story: Don't buy products from Vyrez or any of his hoes unless you want a shitty product with no support and/or to be banned for no real reason.

And I'm sure I'll get a bunch of shit from people defending Vyrez or the other mentioned users.... but to any new members, keep in mind all these e-book sellers work together.

Not directly, but i know its the same. Fades was one of the owners in the discord... Now hes gone and Riyu is one of the owners in the discord for the method. Also, when i asked a few questions that pertained to the method fade was selling in Riyus thread, Riyu PMed me to delete my post.

xjammer - September 11, 2018, 3:21 pm

I can attest to this that Riyu and Fade are selling for Vyrez as for Trappy I don't think he is.

If you were looking with a clear eye you would see Vyrez was banned for proxy selling which is against this forum and because he had many scam reports opened against him. Now he is doing the same with Riyu. If you aren't being transparent to the customers that is scam enough not to mention the methods he sells are public and even though he knows that he is still selling them, as well as sold some other HF users method as well as his own.

Was thinking about it, but im sure id get banned. Honestly, i doubt its ever gonna come to an end since they're allowed to just resell the same shit over and over.

But hopefully some new members see this and realize the methods are public and they only care about making a quick buck, which shows in their shitty support. Might save some people a few hundred $

LoveOverFear - September 12, 2018, 12:20 pm

Yeah, it's all bad, i didn't wanna expose them cause they helped me out but i technically did myself a favor by getting the Paxful method for cheap, but in the end they didn't hold a candle to their word as support was non-existent. Vyrez has the nerve to act all big and cocky when all he does is screw people over.

This website would be paradise if it wasn't for the scammers on here.

Actually surprised Vyrez got banned as well but now he has his lackeys to do his dirty work.

I can actually vouch for all that OP has mentioned about Vyrez. About the other 2 guys on the title, don't know them nor have i bought anything from them. I'll be posting my screenshots with proof tomorrow, it's kinda late here already.

Also Vyrez was privately selling a Blackhat method to the members who bought his E-Book, method that he referred to as a "bit unethical" inbetween the discussion about how simple the method was and how low the price was for the returns it would give. Once i got the method and realized i was actually going to steal people's money, i asked for a refund to which he replied "come back once it's 30 days". He told me he would need to see if in those 30 days no money was made by checking my Paypal. Guess what, 30 days after he refuses to refund me because for a refund he needs to see a video of me attempting the method and failing. Pathetic uh? Like i mentioned, i'll post the evidence about all of this tomorrow, too tired.

A mention to some replies i've seen to this thread from people who actually seem to be around for a long time and to have some good reputation. I agree with you on the point that selling E-Book's is his business and if those E-Book's are garbage, which they are, it's our fault. But these dudes provide us with false information when they offer along with the E-Book, a full support. I'm pretty damn sure i'm not paying 39.99$ or w.e the prices are for an E-Book i can find online. From the moment they sell an E-Book with full support and they do not provide it, nor they provide a refund, they're scamming, period. If your answer to this is f it, let it go, then i don't know why you're the ones running this forum. Apparently he's banned, which is definitely a good start.

Edit 1: Just a funny side of the story. Vyrez actually used to ask for a bump on his thread, saying he would pay 0.1$ in bitcoin for it. This dude was such a broke ass that everytime i posted on his thread and asked him for the payment, he would just ask for the address and never pay. This happened like 10 times xD Actually got banned for a month for it here on HF and his thread was left untouched. Was it hard to guess why was i buddy bumping? ;)

Bro you have no idea of what you're talking about. In that time i was bumping because we were actually having some good conversation's. I was doing it because he was asking. He was offering to pay for that service in another place and that's when i started asking for the bitcoin in return. But why am i even trying to explain myself to someone who is clearly trying to get his post count up. Looks like you have a lot of time to spare, if you wish i can fill it out and get you to make some money kiddo :)

What about the instagram/facebook "hackers" you're selling for Vyrez. Literally seen multiple people complain about that shit not working. But then again, im sure you just listen to what Vyrez tells you to do.

Rich Brian - September 14, 2018, 7:11 pm

Just let them do their thing and sell the ebooks. Im pretty sure if I had a method that actually earns me close to $1,000 a week I wouldn't be selling it. anybody could just download a Leaked E-Book, edit it, then resell it.

Gordeus - September 22, 2018, 9:02 am

I bought the 'private method' from Fade, but it was actually linked to Vyrez's Rocketr account.

The method was complete BS because:

- 1) The cash out methods were outdated and didn't work
- 2) The OV cards were mostly stolen, carded or obtained by phishing methods

The Discord server got closed down 4 or 5 times, which is no wonder given it was a method that involved trying to cash out prepaid cards that were essentially stolen.

Vyrez used to message me weekly asking if I would bump his threads here.

Edit: Also, could someone please explain to me why Riyu is allowed to still sell Vyrez's methods here? His sales thread here is using the Skype doomgermen, which is Vyrez's Skype address....

Also, check this last post. Another user who received a shitty method from fade (mvmt) and doesn't get a refund. Needs to stop already.

Shad0wM - September 24, 2018, 7:07 pm

Guys just check out the profiles that "vouch", see their posts, they vouch only on their own threads, and those profiles that vouch, never go back online.

Spent a hour figuring it out.

Now look at it from a other side.

You are new on some forum, confused and you see a thread (make 500$ a day blablabla)

Oh, there is even a advertisement slot for his thread, this must be something real.

When he press it he sees 50 pages filled with guys who vouch for his great methods.

And what do you do? Buy a fucking ebook and realize you are idiot, and a HF is a scammer site, and you never come back.

I am not saying HF is a scamming site, but from a newbies experience with his first deal where he expected a lot, for him it is.

How much time it will take to crack account and he ignored my question, why he did that?

Let me tell you, because it is a bruteforce tool and its going to take forever, and after many attempts, account will be locked anyway.

Its a shame that those threads exist.

When guys get scammed like that, they never come back. Thats why this community is going to get smaller.

Well accounts dont get locked from failed login attempts, otherwise i could lock anyone's account.

If you're referring to captcha, i'd assume any decent program would have a captcha bypass included.

1. Sure most are, that's why i said you have to look for the good ones and judge it yourself. An example is the appraisers group, or members like theocritus, mentors, etc. 95% of ebook sellers are bullshit yet there is NO legit method? You seem to be contradicting yourself. How would you know there is no legit method just because you were unlucky to buy a shit method and now you're making bullshit assumptions. I'll agree with you that most of them are trash and yes they do ruin the marketplace for higher quality sellers like myself who actually take the time to respond to all my client's questions.

2. Sure i can easily prove to you my CPA method has been working for me, it's pretty popular and a common way to earn money. Send me a PM :). (i cant prove anyone else's method is good but thats up to you to find out)

Man this thread really opened my eyes. Definitely seemed like something was weird on all the Riyu sticky threads because there are hundreds of vouches but almost ZERO people posting about their actual user experience. It was fun for a while HF. I'll just be a lurker from now on. Should be a pretty major red flag when you have a marketplace where the people willing to hand over their money don't even have access to basic info on the product and if they ask questions they get dismissed as script kiddies(an insult not even a five year old would be offended by).

So what are some options for forums/sites where there actually is quality control from administrators so you don't have to worry about all the top threads being scams?
