Thread: Added section : Personal Life > Outdoors

Armada - September 12, 2018, 10:50 pm

I've noticed a large interest in simply outdoors life, I suggest we add a section to the personal life forums for Outdoors activities, like fishing, camping, and other general out doors activities.

Again, I've met quite a few members on here who have similar interests and I think we can generate enough activity to justify an added section.

Input or feedback?

I agree with this, a sub forum in the personal life section would be great. Outdoors, Camping & More

Or at least maybe rename the sports section to "Outdoors, Sports, Camping & more " so it can be included in there.

I would not mind a section like this. I love fishing and I have a love hate relationship with camping. Let's see what others think..

PRIMARY reason, I got nowhere to properly place these kinda threads, but I'd love to talk and discuss.

I am sure Prepper and other will agree as well. Were focused on more SEO, no? Whats a trial sub forum gonna cost us as a community? ? ?

Hey yea this would be an awesome section, i can share my hiking/travel/adventure experiences there.

Just saying that lowkey a fishing section would be 10/10 :)

Looks like someone got denied from HF usage.

I support. Been waiting too do some outside activities like Bear Grylls and post it here.

Ømen Xiii - September 13, 2018, 4:36 am

Oh hell yeah that would be awesome! Everyone could post pics of their hikes and campgrounds and what not that would be super cool!

I love the outdoors so this would be a super cool sub to have put on the site.

Mr. Robot - September 13, 2018, 5:06 am

As long as we can share stories, pictures, knowledge and debunk false information regarding outdoors - i'd be down.

I feel like it should be more of a 'survival' section in general - talking about being a gray man - shelters - fishing from raw materials - that sort of thing. I feel like it would fit more with HF and be a larger branch.

As a huge fan of camping and other outdoor activities, a section for this kind of stuff would be really cool!

I RESTATE my original argument, MANY people, a large percentage of the community I would argue is keen to outdoor activities.

I mean OKAY, Golfing aint exactly camping but even Omni can appreciate getting out to the range for a day and fire a few balls around....

Doesn't really fit the theme of the forums i think

But Anime Adventures does huh?

Okay....

I believe Omniscient is wanting to attract new members as well as increase activity on the forums overall, the only way that can be done is with new ideas, new sections, new features which he has been doing.

Yeah but what about my suggestion - combining it into more of a survival type thing.

I agree there should be a section for this. I'd love to share my Hunting season with y'all.
