Does ROOT requirements count previous reputation before the reset? Seems a little unfair to those who have been here eight years and didn't deserve to be repfucked.

No. It is what it is. Either way, that shouldn't concern you, you cannot be upgraded to r00t.

The system today that works good couldn't be what it is without doing so. Its for the best.

It's called "repkill" now. And since you're UB3R member, you cannot get upgraded to R00T.

Really not that upset. Was just curious as to how things worked around here now. I don't have full understanding of the forums dynamics. Kindly, lay off.

A lot has changed on HF. You gotta realize you gained Ub3r over 8 years ago. The HF you joined then is not the same as it is now. Unfortunately you have a new reality to learn.

this. doesn't matter because UB3R can't upgrade to root. b - rating is more accurate than rep now
