Thread: Logan Pauls Youtube channel was just hacked?

zeroday - September 13, 2018, 2:04 pm

A video has been uploaded claiming to give away a phone that is 1 minute long and seems random as fuck. The video is now removed due to breaking Youtube's policies. In the description there was a typical CPA link that leads to "Human Verification" where you had to complete a survey lol

I think he may have been hacked

ririki - September 13, 2018, 2:13 pm

Uhhh, nothing surprising but interesting.

I haven't noticed that thanks

0xB9 - September 13, 2018, 2:15 pm

You may be right... doesn't sound like something he'd upload.

zeroday - September 13, 2018, 2:16 pm

I wonder how much money the people that did it made off the one video. It wasn't up for long but his audience is pretty gullible.

Me too, that's some new level business here.

Most of the young people fell to it, for sure.

And according to Logan Pauls channel, it's still up.

/e: And it now seems he reuploads old videos with his link.

ahh, looks like it was just re-uploaded 20 minutes ago...

FuzeSweetTea - September 13, 2018, 2:30 pm

If logan paul did upload that video, it'd be a cancerous 20 minute clickbait video of how he talks about his life, then he'd spam the giveaway on every social media platform he owns.

zeroday - September 13, 2018, 2:30 pm

If the Youtube favorite Logan Paul can be hacked.... No one is safe

we know u just read post above yours

common now

V?rt - September 13, 2018, 2:37 pm

Yeah, I'm pretty curious as to how much money the people made off of that. His audience is younger and probably would click something like that.

All you did was just drop a link... lol Grow up.

Condoms - September 13, 2018, 2:40 pm

Now everyone mass reports him, and gets his channel shutdown?

Clever.

Yea... doubt YouTube would ever let that happen to their wonder boy.

YouTube has always been against him since he uploaded the Suicide Forest video.

Where have you been?

That's not too true. Keemstar was talking about how Youtube make videos that try to redeem him etc trend

Business - September 13, 2018, 2:58 pm

I wish they never let him come back... but at the same time it's nice to see creators get a second chance. I just don't fuck with him.

I don't like him myself, but can't really blame someone for getting hacked.

I agree, but it could've been from a 3rd-party service. I'm sure someone else manages his channel.

CPA Exposé - September 13, 2018, 4:32 pm

Whoever did this is stupid.

They could have been more subtle and probably edited some descriptions of videos with affiliate/cpa links instead of uploading a video and making it 100% obvious that he was hacked.

If they were against him they'd demonetize him or ban him. They want money. They're not against anyone who will make them shitloads of cash. Face reality, Imfao.

Or if he wanted quick cash, at least make a proper video and not 16 seconds of bullshit any teenager could identify as a fake

Obdurate - September 13, 2018, 5:38 pm

If he was hacked, hopefully he wont get his account back...

When someone hacks your account they usually don't have your password in plain text and login secretly just like you do. In most cases, they use ways that require a password reset. I doubt it was possible for the person that did this to do what you're describing.
