He has not purchased this, nor did he partake in bets from my service, however he shadowed me for about a month. He was looking for a quick way to make some cash, so I decided to let him in, even if he decided it's a bit too risky for him, which is totally understandable. His vouch is not Recieved a one week vouch copy of this. Think I personally was a tiny bit down or just around break even which wasn't really a big issue at all for me as I did miss alot of bets due too the time zone difference and I wasn't up when alot of bets was getting posted at around 1-5am my time. However if every bet was placed I would of made profit. This service will more than likely be profitable in the long run so aslong as you don't do stupid $1 bets forever it will be worth the investment. There was a few great underdog picks that came through which just shows they do know what they are doing with this betting service. Best of luck with sales!

Hey guys, just wanted to provide you with a little announcement.

As the MLB season winds down and NBA and NHL erect, the official price of a one-month slot in our group will increase to $125 from the original $100. This price change will take effect on October 10, 2018. Anytime you purchase before that, the price will remain at $100, though after that, all future customers must pay the new fee of $125. Payment options will remain the same.

For returning customers and customers that refer a buddy, we will have deals/opportunities for you in the future.

Thanks!

I recieved a 2 week vouch copy of this product. I had no clue about sports betting but Lukas caught me up and answered near 3-4 hours worth of questions I had so support is great! This comes with a bank management guide to control how much you bet. Unless you are experienced in gambling, I suggest you follow the given banking and funds management guide.

My earnings:

I near x7d my initial deposit. I depoed in $100 and pulled out near 700. Note: I did not follow the banking and management guide as I am a skillful and experienced gambler.

Onto the main review..the pick are consistently winning and over come the losses. YES I SAID LOSSES. No gambling is ever loss free, it is more of beating the losses and profitting, not the other way around. Obviously there are some bad days, but not a single day I went below my initial deposit. There are near 10 picks a day and some days 20-25! Win to loss average I would say is 10:4-6

Overall this does make money and is worth the price as well. Hope you guys take this before NBA! Thats where the real money starts!

-120, and those numbers are called American odds. That basically tells you how much you'd get back.

For that specific odd, you'd get back 1.83x your money. It depends on which bookie you use, but all bookies should have odds very close to that.

If you need more help, you can use a tool like this:

<https://www.odds shark.com/tools/odds-calculator> to help you with finding out what the American odds are, converted to decimal odds.

Hey guys, just a reminder that today will be the last day to purchase your next month for $100. Starting tomorrow the buy-in price will be raised to $125. This is due to the addition of new sports, and with new+more sports comes additional research. As a bit of influence, NBA will be a huge moneymaker seeing that its one of our top three sports. I can assure you that you won't want to miss this opportunity.

Thanks.

Paradoxical - October 15, 2018, 7:54 pm

So i've been betting in this group for around 4 days now. After I purchased access to the discord where the tips are sent out, I setup my very first betting account (I use Bovada).

I've never placed a bet in my life and I rarely watch sports, and with that being said: Within the last couple of days i've been able to figure out what calls mean what, how to manage my bankroll and on top of all of that these calls are very, very profitable. I've personally been making small $2-$5 bets while I get the hang of things but that hasn't stopped me from making money. I started with around $50 usd and i'm currently sitting @ around $60~ give or take a few bucks. I plan to gradually start raising my bets as my bankroll slowly increases but I'm very impressed with the quality of the calls, the consistency of the wins and the support of the guys running the discord. They're awesome folks and really helpful.

If anyone's curious about getting into sports betting and you have around 50-100 bucks to gamble with it's pretty easy to make some decent cash that actually comes in pretty quickly. Overall great experience so far.

Went 4-4 last night. Sort of unfortunate, but we did make some profit for the most of it.

Handed out seven predictions for tonight.

Hey, what if I spread a total of 1000$ evenly between all your signals? How much ROI would I be able to make in a day on average?

That's a really tough question to answer, mainly due to the fact that calls aren't guaranteed wins, though pretty accurate. In a perfect scenario, however you'd be able to double your money at the least, very easily.

Ended up breaking even yesterday. Few key predictions took a wild and unexpected turn, but we're going to be hard at work this weekend.

Expect a ton of accurate calls to bounce back!

From the two different betting services I've tried, this one is far superior. You're given guides on how to manage your money when betting, as well as various suggestions that can help your profit. Of course you can't win every game, but the win rates don't lie. I will say that the bets are posted pretty soon before the games start, so keeping your notifications on and making sure you're ready to bet helps a lot. Overall, there's a reason this service costs more than those cheap $5/week services. It's because it's not some bot making automatic predictions, it's someone who understands sports making their own bets. If you're trying to get into betting, don't waste your time with a shitty cheap service. You'll eventually end up coming here like I did!
