ALT post for the above, what is posted to the job boards in my area:

Those who are most successful in this role will be rewarded with additional perks and opportunity.

For each business a representative brings successfully into the clientel of IGxAristocrat, £50 is awarded.

To make your pitch easier, a single-page dossier with all required information is given to the business owner. This allows your pitch to involve as much, or as little, talking as desired. You'll also be given IGxAristocrat business cards. This position is open to any location or country.

We would like to leave your method as free as possible. We want you to use initiative, and to have as much freedom as needed to maintain a healthy and happy work role for you.
