Out of everything and anything you could possibly hack, you'd rather mind someone else's business than ur own!!?!

I created this kind of application where you can view text messages , contacts, call logs, browser history

I can even make a call, text someone using his phone remotely
All of this features will only work if his phone connected to wifi or mobile data is open and have internet connection.

There are more features that i didnt mention im having a hardtime explaining this in english

My spying app also a facebook phishing app
